Take control of your leisure time.

Explore the outer limits of

You are about to go on a journey. A journey not of miles or of distance, but of the senses. For what lies ahead is an unexpected dimension of deep relaxation. Take a seat, close your eyes, and breathe deeply. Your next stop is a place of compelling comfort called simply: The Serenity Zone.

Select the massage you desire with finger-tip controls.

It's not science fiction. You can take that journey anytime. Your vehicle of escape is a handsome chair that looks like a luxurious recliner. It's called the Get-A-Way® Chair, and now it's been improved to work its magic even better.

Target zero: your back.

Consider your body at the end of a typical business day: muscles knotted with tension, nerves rubbed raw by traffic, mind clouded by stress. Now settle into the new Get-A-Way Chair, put your feet up on the glide-out footrest, and touch a control on the console.

Oh, yes! That sudden rush of pleasure is the work of three independent massaging motors and dual massaging rollers. The inner rollers travel slowly back and forth from the base of your spine to your head—stretching and relaxing your tired back, shoulder, and neck muscles. You can actually feel tension melt away with each probing stroke.

Enjoy your favorite music through the built-in stereo.

To concentrate the pleasure, press another control to focus the rollers on a specific area. Select broad 9" strokes, or pinpoint relief with short 4½" strokes.

To intensify the massage, increase your recline angle. The gas cylinder assisted backrest reclines from 120-160° and locks in any position. All the way back is perfect for catnaps. The padded seat is ultra-comfortable and the contoured back gives full, firm support.

Add soothing vibrations.

Another touch of the control console sends penetrating vibrations into your mid-back. Select gentle or high vibrations—with or without rollers. Like millions of soothing fingertips, the vibrations gently stroke away tension, fatigue, and weariness.

your personal Serenity Zone.

Now, relax your legs by activating the footrest vibrator. Both low and high settings are absolute ecstasy for stiff calves.

Enjoy your massage for as long as you like, or use the console's built-in timer to select a 10, 20, or 30-minute massage.

Even control your sound environment.

To hasten your escape into serenity, Get-A-Way Chair banishes household and urban noises with a built-in stereo AM/FM and cassette player. Relax to your favorite music or the included cassette of soothing nature sounds.

Two full-range 4" speakers are now fully concealed in the headrest. Sound fidelity and separation are superb. Full controls include balance, volume, and tone. Cassette player limits wow and flutter to just 0.2% maximum.

Look and feel of luxurious leather.

This latest Get-A-Way Chair brings the look of fine leather to your home or office. Only close inspection reveals the covering is a modern synthetic. This glove-soft, full-grained material has the appearance and durability of real leather, but is much more resistant to stains and cracking.

Built in Japan on a sturdy frame of steel. Massage rollers are spring-loaded for flexibility and run on strong steel shafts. Measures 40H × 30W × 36L"; weighs 93 lbs. Plugs into wall outlet with 6′ cord. Control console is now mounted on a flexible coil so it's always close at hand. One-year warranty.

To the uninitiated, The Serenity Zone remains an enigma—a place of enticing pleasures quite beyond the reach of words. For this is a realm that yields its secrets only to the curious senses, not to the inquiring mind. To begin your journey, call now toll-free or visit a Sharper Image store. And make your getaway soon.

From the President.

Introducing my favorite key chain.

A year ago, we set out to design the world's best key chain. We've all had key chains with a particular feature we liked. The problem is, most don't last very long. And you never get all the best features in one version.

This key chain is well-made, functional, and attractive. The metal is die-cast, brushed aircraft aluminum. We went all the way to Germany to track down the patented mechanism. And we wanted something distinctive, so we created the prototype here in our own design studios.

This Sharper Image key chain is so ingenious, it's a pleasure to own and use. For me, it solves the problem of how to remove my car key easily at valet parking or the repair shop, without giving up my house keys. Give it a try. I know you'll like it as much as I do.

Of course, everything you purchase is risk-free, whether it's a key chain, stereo, or fitness equipment. You have 30 days to make up your mind, and if not satisfied with your purchase, you can return it (in new condition, please) for a prompt refund or exchange.

If you have a question, our customer service operators are eager to help (call 800 344-5555). And please remember: If you ever see a product advertised elsewhere for a lower price, we'll sell you the item at that price or refund the difference up to one month later.

These are the principles we believe in. Our reputation with you is more important than any profit. You'll be 100% satisfied—or we'll make it right. That's our promise, and you can depend on it.

Happy Shopping!

Richard

Richard Thalheimer

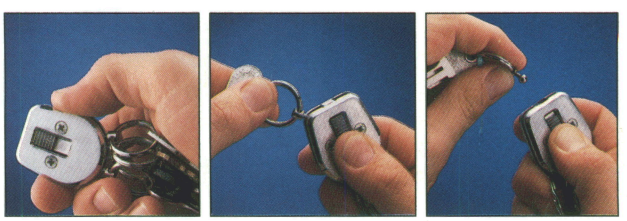
A German inventor endows the key chain with genius.

Key chains haven't changed much over the years. Most are stamped out by the millions and work OK—until yours suddenly unsnaps, sending all your keys flying. Or until you want to add or remove a key. Then you can be in for a real struggle.

After years of testing and abandoning various key chains, Sharper Image President Richard Thalheimer decided that someone, somewhere in the world must have thought creatively about this problem. So we set out to locate that person.



To remove a key, simply slide the ring to the flat side, and press the button.

We found him in a small town in West Germany called Meiswinkel. Inventor Heinz Wolter had spent many years in his home shop working on key chain designs.

One evening Wolter sketched a flat metal disc with a machined inner track around the edge. Spherical hooks would ride in the track, and could be inserted or removed by means of a spring-loaded sliding catch. A ring through each hook could hold several keys. The idea was simple, practical, and new—so Wolter built a prototype and patented his invention.

From idea to finished product.

Discovering Wolter's patent was just the first step. Many months were required to track down the inventor in Germany and license the rights. Then drawings had to be made, dies fabricated, and manufacturers found who could perform the specialized casting and precision machining.

This search led us to several long-established metal-working firms in northeastern Ohio—where all manufacturing is done. Each miniature ball hook, for example, is milled from a solid block of metal.

The best key chain in the world.

The result is The Sharper Image key chain: four ounces of die-cast aircraft aluminum you will admire every time you reach for your keys.

Four separate stainless steel rings hold your home, office, car, and personal keys. The rings swivel freely, but detach only when you slide the recessed button. Now you can slip off the front door key to tuck into your jogging shorts—without lugging the entire set.

To prevent several rings from sliding off at once, the release catch opens on the straight side, not in the center of the curve as on other versions. Measures a slim 1½H × 1¼W × ⅜D." Each comes in a handsome gift box.

Shoot a home movie from the palm of your hand.

Sony introduces the smallest, lightest, and most sophisticated camcorder in the world. This Sony® Handycam® camcorder uses the latest 8mm cassettes, weighs only 2¼ lbs. (with battery), and measures just 7 × 4¼". Tuck it into your carry-on bag or parka pocket and use it like a 35mm camera—you won't miss a moment of family gatherings, weddings, graduations, or vacations.

World's smallest camcorder is packed with powers.

Like Sony's professional camcorders, this ultra-compact version lets you shoot crisp footage in light as low as four lux—even candlelight. Want to film your son's football game at twilight? Auto Focus, Auto White Balance, and Auto Iris continually react to changing light conditions and movement. Or choose Manual, and one touch lets you select one of six shutter speeds (from ¼000 to ⅙0 per second) for sharp, clear images of fast-moving pass patterns.

Sony-engineered CCD (Charge-Coupled Device) imaging individually fills all 270,000 pixels for crisp outlines with no "smearing." Backlight button helps highlight faces against bright backgrounds.

You have fingertip control over the 6:1mm power zoom lens. A touch of a switch lets you get professional macro closeups (down to ½") then fill the screen with a panoramic shot. Optional 0.5 × wide angle lens gives you a 50% wider picture. The omnidirectional microphone with electret condensor circuitry and mechanical noise cancellation adds high-fidelity sound.

View on the spot, then add titles and more.

A single compact 8mm cassette lets you record up to two hours of video. To review footage, the electronic viewfinder twists up and telescopes out. Instantly, you have a ½" black-and-white screen for crisp replays.

A built-in Digital Superimposer lets you overlay pictures, illustrations, or handwritten or printed titles while recording—in your choice of eight colors. Edit Search gives you forward/reverse search for on-site editing. Auto Fade lets you fade to white for smooth transitions between scenes. Date and time can be added to recordings.

Hold private screenings for friends.

For group showings, the camcorder hooks up to any TV with the included adapter. True red/green/blue color processing delivers excellent chromatic fidelity. Audio Frequency Modulation output adds a crisp soundtrack. Skip/scan lets you scan forward or reverse, and a flying erase head ensures glitch-free editing. Other jacks connect video equipment for editing and dubbing.

The included snap-on rechargeable battery pack lasts for 65 minutes while recording, then plugs into the AC adapter (included). Adapter works on any worldwide current. Included lithium battery preserves memory. Select from black or white models. Also comes with a 60-minute cassette, a shoulder strap, and a one-year parts, 90-day labor warranty.

Call today, and be one of the first to experience Sony's breakthrough in video size, performance, and convenience.

Panasonic's rack system you can take anywhere.

For about $300, you can buy a good-quality compact disc player for your home. Or, for the same price, you can own a programmable CD, an auto-reverse cassette deck, and an AM/FM stereo with 24 presets. Panasonic's newest boombox also has full-range 5″ speakers. Best of all, you don't have to stay home to enjoy all of these musical powers.

Bedroom, beach, or on the road.

Slip in a compact disc, and touch a button to skip to any of 12 tracks. Or program Panasonic to play up to 36 tracks in any order. Dual Acoustic Separator™ enclosures improve sonic crispness by eliminating circuitry noise. Innovative XBS™ (Extra Bass System) switch brings out even more deep bass.

It's easy to create seamless-sounding tapes from your CDs. Automatic Tape Level Setting™ circuitry sets the optimum recording level for each disc. Edit Pause calculates the number of tracks that will fit on a tape side, and pauses the CD while it reverses. In/out jacks also let you play CDs, or copy tapes and albums through your home stereo.

The advanced cassette deck has full-logic controls that reverse the tape automatically on playback and recording. Also has earphone and microphone jacks. Receiver gives you one-touch access to 12 AM and 12 FM presets. PLL circuitry pulls in even distant stations with clarity. Digital clock has a built-in timer that lets you fall asleep to music.

Quality manufactured in Japan, Panasonic plugs into wall outlet, or runs on 10 D and 4 AA batteries (not included). Measures 26¼L × 7½H × 8¾D″; weighs 12 lbs. One-year warranty.

Order today for outstanding stereo performance in your kitchen, bedroom, vacation home—or on the road.

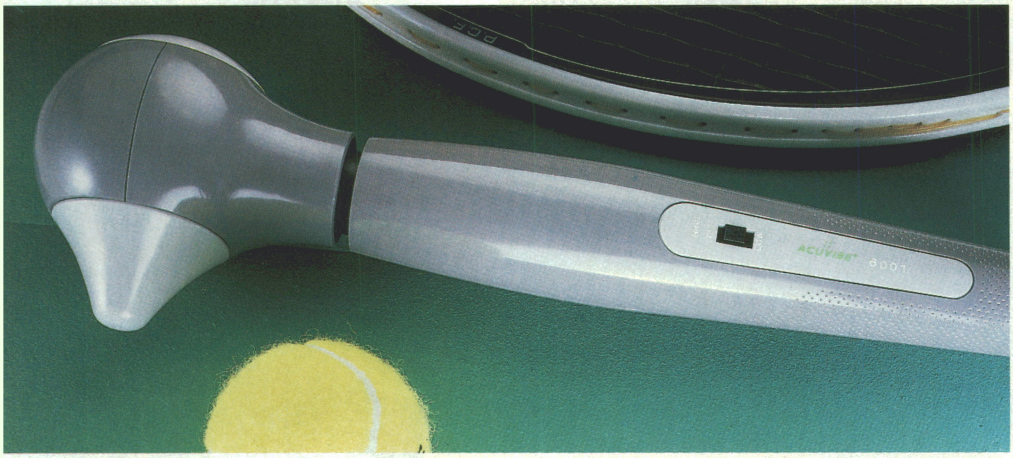
Zero in on tight muscles. And leave the cord at home.

The tapered point of the Acu-Node Massager focuses concentrated vibrations on your tired, stiff muscles. The cordless version even lets you enjoy a penetrating massage on the tennis court or playing field.

For a relaxing overall massage, glide the spherical surface over your body. Generous 14″ length lets you easily reach your back, neck, and shoulder muscles. Massage head vibrates on a strong internal steel spring, so you can apply light or heavy pressure as desired.

Use the sliding thumb switch to select from 4,800 or 5,800 rpm for the corded model, and 2,800 or 4,200 rpm for the cordless version. Heavy-duty rotary motor is more powerful than the magnetic motors used in many home massagers. Rugged housing is polycarbonate.



Measures 14L × 2W × 4″ head diameter; weighs 1½ lbs. Plugs into wall outlet. Cordless model weighs 2 lbs. and runs approximately one hour on an eight-hour charge (recharger included). Quality Japanese construction. One-year parts, 90-day labor warranty.

These are the same professional massagers used in Playboy's new "Secrets of Euro Massage" videotape.

Now you can enjoy soothing relief anywhere—for about the price of two professional massages. Order today for a risk-free 30-day trial.

Shaving luxury: 47 microns of stainless steel and titanium.

Amazingly, the foil of this Panasonic rechargeable wet/dry shaver is thinner than cigarette paper—only 47 microns. For strength, both sides are coated with space-age titanium. Stainless steel inner blades have ultra-sharp serrated edges that grip each hair, so it can be cut as close as possible. Extra-wide pop-up trimmer grooms your sideburns and moustache.

Wet your face and shave with foam. Or shave in the shower. You enjoy the clean, fresh feel of a barber shave—without the unpleasant nicks. Shaver rinses clean under the tap. One charge gives you 10 shaves—with an extra 3-shave backup battery. Included AC charger adapts to foreign voltages. Made in Japan. 4¼H × 2¼W × 1D″, 7 oz. Comes in a deluxe case with mirror and brush, and two-year warranty (one year on foil).

First stair climber that builds your upper body too.

Working out on Precor's new 730e Dual Action Climber is more like scaling a mountain than climbing a flight of stairs. With each step, you also use your arms to pull or push yourself up, much like a rock climber. So you get a more complete workout than you would working the legs alone. And because you're using more muscle groups, you reach your aerobic "target zone" more quickly, making the most of each twenty-minute session.

Built-in "weight set."

As you exercise, the specially designed handles let you concentrate on specific upper-body muscle groups, much like a set of weights. Grasp the bottom of the handle underhand, and you work your lower back, lats, and biceps. Move your hands to the side position to emphasize your upper back. Or grip the top for a thorough workout of your shoulders. To build the muscles in your chest, push against the handles instead of pulling them toward you. By repositioning your hands during your workout, you'll develop the balanced upper body strength you need for powerful forehands, steady golf swings, and aggressive pole planting on slalom runs.

Handles travel a full 17", ensuring complete extension of the muscles in your arms, chest, and back. You not only build strength, but flexibility as well. And since the arm and leg motions are linked via Precor's patented rocker system, you can relax your legs for a vigorous upper body workout, or focus solely on your lower body. To increase resistance, simply reposition the oversize wing-nuts.

Gain without pain.

With each step, Precor works all the major muscle groups in your back, hips, buttocks, and legs. A 26" maximum range lets muscles really stretch—as they would in a flat-out sprint. As you climb, custom-built ETA resistance cylinders cushion every step, protecting vulnerable knee and ankle joints from impact and stress.

LCD readout monitors pace, distance, elapsed time, and cumulative distance.

The on-board computer monitors your progress by keeping track of elapsed time, strokes per minute, total strokes, and average/maximum strokes per minute. All numbers are displayed with bright, clear LEDs. For ease of use, the control panel has only three buttons. Runs on two AA batteries (not included).

The sturdy handles are made of steel tubing and wrapped in high-density foam for a sure grip, even when you're perspiring. Rubber footpads keep your feet from slipping. Whisper-quiet mechanism means you can watch TV or listen to music while you exercise. The strong, welded steel frame is coated with an attractive and durable, baked-on powder finish. Measures 60H × 24W × 35L"; weighs 75 lbs. The 30-minute assembly requires included wrench. One-year warranty. Precision-built in the US.

One of the biggest reasons successful people don't get the exercise they need is that they simply don't have time. Finally, Precor makes it possible for even the busiest executives to stay physically fit. Order the Precor Dual Action Climber today for a risk-free, 30-day trial.

Tekna creates the sports bag for underwater enthusiasts.

California's Tekna Design Group makes some of the most sophisticated diving equipment in the world. Now Tekna creates a bag specially designed to transport all your scuba or recreational gear.

The Diver's Bag has a cavernous (6,350 cubic inch) compartment for your fins, wet suit, mask, snorkel, and other equipment. Mesh vents provide ample air circulation, and steel eyelets on the bottom drain excess water. Best of all, a special Dry Sak (accessible from one end) keeps towels, clothes, and shoes away from wet scuba gear.

Use the padded removable pouch to protect your delicate regulator and underwater camera. An outside pocket holds guide books and treasure maps, and a clip-shut side pouch keeps suntan lotion, sandals, wallet, and other essentials within close reach.

Carry by the padded handle or detachable shoulder strap. For heavy loads use the backpack-style straps that are neatly concealed in the bottom compartment. Bag is made of super heavy-duty 840 denier nylon. Elastomer lines the interior for resistance to water and mildew. Delrin YKK zippers will never rust. Use included corrosion-proof padlocks to secure contents. Measures 30L × 15W × 13H"; weighs 5 lbs. empty. One-year warranty.

If you're a water-sports enthusiast, this is the duffel bag you've been looking for. Order today in time for summer fun.

The ultimate tropical adventure: underwater sightseeing with Tekna.

Space-age materials and advanced anatomic design make Tekna's latest Xpress™ fin faster and lighter. The computer-configured blade is a patented elastomer called Flexon.™ It matches the thrust power of Tekna's previous fin —while cutting weight by 11 oz. per pair.

Four rudder-like ribs channel your kick power for maximum efficiency and quick turns. Translucent Flexon is impervious to salt, sun, and abrasion. The comfortable foot pocket is a more pliant, but equally durable elastomer. Push-button heel straps adjust quickly, and pivot open to let your foot slide in. Medium fins fit men's shoe sizes 7-9 and women's 8-10½. Large is for men's sizes 9½-12.

Tekna's mask is framed with clear polycarbonate that allows in more light—revealing every vibrant aquatic detail. Tempered glass lenses eliminate distortion and provide shatter-proof safety (corrective lenses are available through Tekna).

For a comfortable, airtight seal, the surgical-grade silicone flange conforms precisely to your facial angles. Rolling strap-locks adjust effortlessly, even underwater. Includes a protective storage case and snap-in lens retainers in six fashion colors.

Self-draining snorkel has a one-way purge valve, and a large .85" barrel for unrestricted air flow. Non-allergenic silicone mouthpiece has collapsible tooth lugs and swivels 360°. Rugged fins and snorkel carry lifetime guarantees (one year on mask).

Inflate your lifestyle. Be a castaway on your own floating paradise.

The gentle trade winds blow through the swaying palm, rocking you softly above the crystal blue water in the warm tropical sunshine. An expensive vacation in Bora Bora? No, you're in your own backyard pool, enjoying the hedonistic pleasures of new Paradise Island Float.

This private Shangri-La supports one or two sun-worshippers (up to 300 lbs. total) in first class comfort. Recline against the jumbo banana pillow, dip your feet in the cooling water, and you can read, study the latest bathing suit fashions, or just work on your tan. Go for a swim, and the Dacron perimeter rope makes it easy to pull yourself back on board.

Take a break on a lake.

The float has five separate air chambers, so you can safely set sail on ponds, lakes, and rivers. Air valves are self-sealing to prevent leaks. Heavy-duty PVC construction resists punctures and stands up to pool chemicals like chlorine.

Your colorful resort measures 15H × 6′ in diameter (about .0006 acre). The inflatable palm tree towers 5½′ in the sky. Inflates by mouth or with the optional Single Action Pump (see p. 17). Comes with repair kit and one-year warranty.

Improved water lounge lets you tan without turning.

Slip into Solar Tub™ and relax while you tan—on both sides at once. This versatile air mattress has an outer layer of transparent vinyl and a reflective silver bottom. The sun's rays bounce back from underneath to give you a rich, healthy looking tan all over.

Bigger, stronger, and built for relaxation.

This latest version of our best-selling water lounge measures a full 6½′ long and nearly 4′ wide. Electronically welded air chambers are designed to maintain shape as they expand with the sun's heat. And I-beam floor construction adds buoyancy. The result: Solar Tub is more stable on water, and on land it supports your body with supreme comfort. Lean back on the included pillow, and you have a chaise for reading.

On cool or cloudy days, Solar Tub reflects your own body heat while shielding against ground chill. When the sun gets too hot, add water to make a shallow pool. A built-in plug allows quick drainage.

The sturdy 16-gauge PVC vinyl is 50% stronger than cheap plastic imitations. Tough enough to bring along as an air mattress for camping or lounging on the beach. Perimeter towline makes it easy to climb aboard from any side. For quickest inflation, use the optional Single Action Pump (see above). 90-day warranty.

US-minted money clip.

Slim and unobtrusive, this silver and gold money clip is an excellent way to carry your cash.

Jewelry craftsmen begin with a genuine, uncirculated dollar coin—one ounce of pure US-minted fine silver. Using sophisticated electroplating tools, they painstakingly highlight the heraldic eagle, stars, and back of the coin with rich 24K gold. In the final step, the coin is permanently sealed under a tough, crystal-clear polymer to prevent tarnish and scratches. A gold-plated band circles the coin to secure the clip to the underside (where the image of Lady Liberty is visible). The patented, spring-action clip, also plated with 24 karats, steadfastly holds even a single bill. The clip can be engraved by your jeweler.

If your overstuffed wallet weighs you down, leave it at home. And head out for a night on the town with your cash secured by this trim and elegant clip.

Disturbing news for rodents.

The original Go'pher It® drove away underground pests with waves of Vibra-Sound (vibrations and sound). This improved model is even more effective against more kinds of rodents.

The upgraded electronics employ an integrated circuit for more consistent Vibra-Sound output over a broader range of frequencies. Now it drives away squirrels, chipmunks, and skunks—as well as gophers, moles, shrews, and voles. Barely audible to you, but to the keenly alert ears of underground animals it sounds like the Marines are landing. Effective up to 100′ in diameter (depends on soil conditions). Harmless to pets, children, and beneficial animals like worms.

Redesigned housing of rugged ABS now uses rubber O-rings for a completely waterproof seal. Will give you many seasons of service through all types of weather. Instead of bulky D batteries, the low-drain electronics now run approximately 6 months on 4 C batteries (not included). Measures 14L × 8½" diameter. Made in US. Comes with a wooden dibble for making a starter hole in hard soil. One-year parts, 90-day labor warranty.

Fight destructive pests—without dangerous gas, traps, or poisons. Order the improved Go'pher It, and protect your garden and expensive landscaping.

New Gruen's newest time traveller: the 1938 Kent Curvex.

In 1938, Benny Goodman wowed an audience at Carnegie Hall with a new sound called "swing." Architects unveiled designs for the futuristic pavilions of the New York World's Fair. And the designers at Gruen created the daring "Kent" Curvex®: one of the first timepieces to apply Art Deco style to fine watchmaking.

Over five decades later, Gruen reintroduces the famous Kent, crafted in the same careful manner as the original. Art Deco "steps" mount the face—evoking the facades of thirties movie palaces. A raised, magnifying crystal is mounted securely at their peak. Only today, a Swiss movement provides quartz accuracy (± 1 minute per year) undreamt of in the '30s.

Feel the curve.

When you try on a Curvex for the first time, you can instantly feel a difference in comfort, as it hugs the natural contour of the wrist. Both the brass case and patented Hesalite® crystal are curved so the two fit together precisely. Ten microns of heavy 18K gold electroplate coat the streamlined case and back.

The original 14K gold-plated Arabic numerals are lined up on the dial, and a second hand revolves in a pale inset. The low-profile stem is oversized for easy time setting.

Padded for comfort and double-stitched for durability, the French pigskin strap seems to disappear beneath the case. (The strap anchors are cleverly concealed by the golden case.) Precision-crafted case is resistant to dust and impact. Watch comes in a handsome octagonal gift box with battery in place and a two-year warranty.

With unlimited time (and funds), you could probably find an original wind-up Kent Curvex in an antique shop. But thanks to Gruen, you can wear today's quartz-accurate version instead—and travel back in time for much less.

Laser pointer that looks like a pen.

Imagine, anywhere you move your hand, you project a spot of brilliant red light. Now Laserex creates an advanced version of their best-selling laser pointer. The size of a fountain pen, it clips to your shirt pocket.

LaserPoint™ replaces the helium neon gas tube of the original with futuristic red-emitting diode technology. Because the solid-state circuitry isn't vulnerable to impacts like a delicate tube, you can take LaserPoint on factory tours, foreign trips, presentations, lectures—all the places you need it most.

Use it to highlight a key number on a business slide. Track the course of a cavalry charge on a wall map. Or pick out a critical detail in a cathedral arch. The laser spot is so bright, you can even direct it on projection TV monitors. Because of the human eye's persistence of vision effect, you can circle objects, and the moving dot will appear to your audience as a solid line.

LaserPoint runs a full 4 hours on 2 AAA batteries, or 7 hours using 3 N cells (neither included). Weighs just 3 oz. Quality Australian construction of Xenoy™ plastic and a strong zinc-aluminum alloy. One-year warranty.

Despite advances in engineering, this improved LaserPoint costs $50 less than the original. Order today.

Class 2 laser has an output of less than .95 mW and is not harmful to the body or eyes. Direct shining into the eyes, however, must be avoided.

More massage magic. Playboy explores sensual Europe.

In this sequel to its best-selling "Art of Sensual Massage," Playboy explores Europe's sophisticated approach to sensual touching—including techniques never shown on video before.

Attractive male and female models demonstrate gentle stroking from Sweden, France's magical caressing of the face and neck, stimulating German hydro-massage, and much more. You learn how to relax inhibitions and enhance arousal through creative use of the tongue, lips, arms and feet, nose, as well as the entire body.

Intimacy through sharing.

You see how helping your partner disrobe can be the creative first step in your lovemaking. You learn the tactile pleasures of powders, and oils enhanced with a favorite scent. You discover the exquisite delights of sensual-erotic massage in the spoon and butterfly positions. Always the emphasis is on sharing, exploration, and creativity.

Tastefully done, 50-minute VHS video is in color, with warm, inviting lighting and relaxing background music. Original 45-minute video is also available. Both are for sale to adults only (models are nude).

Order today, and take a sensual journey through Europe that is certain to make your intimacy more rewarding.

Sound Soother lets you fall asleep to the calming sounds of the surf.

This handsome console looks and performs like the best of the new high-fidelity bedroom radios. The cost is about the same too. But this electronic bedside companion does something the other brands can't: it can assure your sleep is deep and restful.

This newest Sharper Image Sound Soother is the modern sleep conditioner that realistically reproduces nature's most calming sounds. Now, it incorporates all the most-requested improvements from thousands of suggestion cards sent in by you, our customers.

Two restful sounds.

Sound Soother generates "white noise"—long recognized by sleep researchers for its ability to filter out intrusive sounds. You can select a refreshing wave sound for instant relaxation. Or switch to neutral white noise to mask disturbing sounds.

A sophisticated four-stage integrated circuit mixes a broad range of frequencies to simulate natural sounds. It even varies the rate and intensity of the ocean surf.

More ways to fall asleep.

Now, Sound Soother gives you maximum flexibility in selecting sleep enhancements. You can fall asleep to the soother. Or program the radio timer to drift off to music, and—if you like—have the soother switch on later. New "soft start" circuitry turns on the soother slowly so you won't awaken.

You can sleep to the soother all night. Or set the new Soother Timer to switch off automatically from 1-59 minutes after you retire. Now, you can even go to bed in silence and have the soother come on gradually after a preset interval (helpful for people who are especially sensitive to noise). If you wake during the night, a single touch silences the soother momentarily while you drift back to sleep.

In the morning, the alarm or radio comes on gradually over a 45-second period—to ease you gently into the new day instead of jolting you awake. Because couples requested it, Sound Soother now has two independent alarms (choose radio or tone for each). If you prefer, devote one alarm to weekday reveille and the other to weekend wake-ups. For ten more minutes of morning slumber, tap the snooze bar. LEDs show you the status of the alarms and the radio/soother timers at a glance.

Rich, accurate sound.

Upgraded electronics and a new 5" full-range cone speaker deliver superb fidelity on both the FM and AM bands. Total Harmonic Distortion is just 0.2%. Sensitivity of the FM tuner is an impressive 10.0 uV per dB. There are even separate bass and treble controls to personalize sound to your listening taste.

Compact console blends with any bedroom decor and measures just 5½H × 10½W × 3¼D." Plugs into wall outlet. Digital time display dims automatically at night (to a readable but non-disturbing level), and has convenient forward and reverse time setting. One 9v battery (not included) provides memory and clock backup. Separate radio and soother volume controls. Headphone jack for private listening. Comes with instructions and one-year warranty.

Sound Soother can ease noise pollution problems like traffic, neighbors' stereos, equipment operation, barking dogs, and snoring. It can also soothe a restless infant.

Order now and enjoy better bedroom sound and more restful nights.

Lively petting zoo squeaks, moos, and grunts.

Sophisticated animation mechanisms make these endearing plush animals seem almost real.

Talented bunny is hoppy to meet you.

Dedicated to the pursuit of hoppiness, Sonny the Sonic Bunny loves to entertain. Switch him on, and this hoppy-go-lucky rabbit listens for your command. Now clap or snap your fingers, and watch him hop, wiggle his nose, move his ears, and squeak merrily. Then he pauses hopfully to await your next command.

Unabashedly adorable, Sonic Bunny has downy fur of durable synthetic plush. He measures 6H × 9L × 5W″ and runs on 2 AA batteries (not included). Imported. 90-day warranty.

Steer your way toward a moo-ving experience.

If ranching is more your line, bring home Hollis Holstein. This bovine buddy walks, flicks his tail, opens his mouth, and moos. He has friendly black eyes, molded horns, a red velvet collar, and a concealed on/off switch. He measures 10¼L × 6H × 4¼W″ and runs on 2 C batteries (not included).

Portly, yes. Polite, no.

Somewhat lacking in social propriety, Prunella Pig grunts and snorts —even in polite company. She also wrinkles her snout, twitches her curly tail, and plods patiently forward. Patently partial to pink, this porcine princess parades in a particularly pettable soft plush. Measures 9¾L × 5¾H × 5W.″ Runs on 2 C batteries (not included). Concealed on/off switch.

Kids have a ball with 12 animal sounds.

Enthralled, your child turns the brightly colored sphere over and over as he looks for his favorite animal. Finding the illustrated owl, he stops. "This is the owl," a friendly, female voice announces. Then, to your child's delight, the owl gives a big, realistic "hoot, hoot!"

Developed in the US by Texas Instruments, Listen & Learn™ teaches infants and toddlers the names and sounds of twelve farm animals—including a horse, a pig, and a cow. The colorful pictures invite the touch of your child's curious hands. And a sophisticated voice synthesizer chip reproduces a human narrator and the sound of each animal.

Listen & Learn is activated automatically by motion, so there are no exposed switches. If left unmoved for a brief period, it plays a short song to attract attention—then turns itself off with a cheery "bye, bye" to save batteries.

Sphere is made of durable ABS and measures 6¾" in diameter. On/off switch for storage or travel is hidden under a removable safety panel. Second child-proof panel hides 4 AA batteries (not included). Weighs 1 lb. One-year warranty.

This innovative toy not only teaches your child the names and sounds of farm animals, it also helps develop motor skills and hand-eye coordination. Most important, Listen & Learn shows children that learning is fun. Order today.

Dig up some fun with the Power Cat.

With lights blazing and smoke pouring from the stack, this big-scale replica of a Cat excavator turns your living room or back yard into a hard-hat area. Turn the key on the wired controller and the dashboard lights up with a realistic yellow glow. Now grab the controls and start excavating.

Just as on a real Cat, the rubber treads move independently—so you can use the dual levers to pivot right or left, and move forward or backward. High-torque motor powers you up and over obstacles, while headlamps on the cab light the way.

A second set of levers operates the arm and scoop, as smoke billows from the stack. Realistic construction includes a fully detailed cab, simulated hydraulics, embossed decking that looks like steel, safety grab rails, and authentic Cat colors and logos.

Comes fully assembled and measures 14H × 8W × 19L"; weighs 5 lbs. Connects to controls with a 5-foot cable. Runs on 4D batteries (not included). Smoke effect requires only a few drops of household oil. Made of rugged, high-impact plastic. For ages 5 to adult. 90-day warranty.

Float on an ocean of comfort.

With normal use, dime store inflatable pool floats claim to last about one season. Truth is, most meet their match in one afternoon of kids playing "Jaws."

This Super-Soft II™ pool float gains comfort and bouyancy not from trapped air, but from a space age material so rugged, it's used in motorcycle helmets. In the pool or lake, Ensolite® closed-cell vinyl foam is practically impossible to sink—and supports up to 250 lbs. The 1¾" foam layer contours to your body and undulates slowly beneath you like a waterbed. Your head is kept dry and comfortably supported by a patented Full Circle™ headrest—even if you lie on your stomach.

The foam is coated in a thick protective vinyl that renders it virtually impervious to tears, cuts, abrasions, ultraviolet rays, chlorine, and roughhousing kids. The dense foam becomes a comfortable mat for resting at poolside, too.

Now in the colors of summer.

For 1990, The Sharper Image in-house design team creates new oceanic graphics exclusively for our customers. The white vinyl helps reflect the sun to keep you cool. Super-Soft II is made in Texas (where summer heat makes the perfect pool float a necessity). Measures a full 5'10" long and 25" wide. One-year warranty.

Imagine yourself drifting slowly in the middle of the pool or lake, and closing your eyes as the waves lap at your side. To make this dream a summer reality, call now to order your Super-Soft II float.

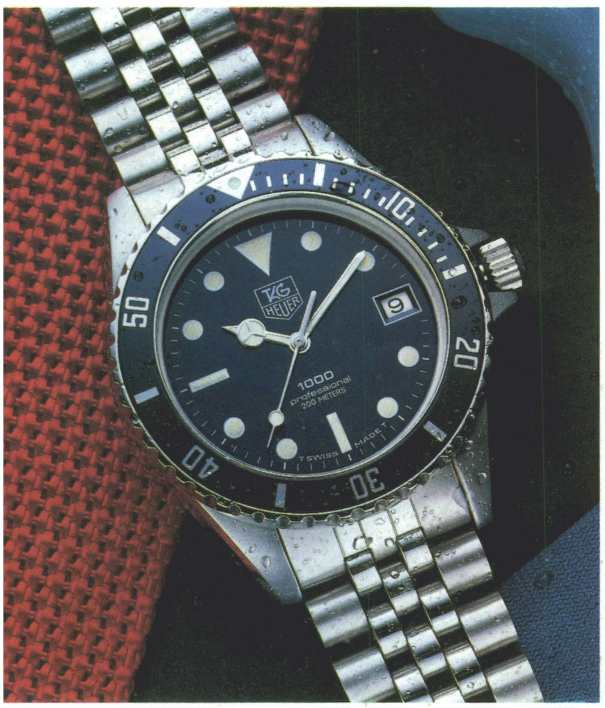
Tag Heuer's deep sea blue.

Eighty feet under water off the Florida Keys, you pass a sunken galleon, and a glint of metal catches your eye. One glance at your Tag Heuer Diving Watch tells you there's time to investigate before surfacing.



Your reliable diving partner.

Tag Heuer diving watches are built with one prime goal: to help ensure the safety of the diver. A screw-in crown and special gasket on the mineral glass crystal seal out ocean pressure to a depth of 660'. Luminescent hands and hour markers and a unidirectional timing bezel let you know when it's time to come up for air.

The watch is machined of stainless steel that's been anodized to withstand saltwater corrosion. Then the face and bezel are coated with lustrous blue enamel. The rugged stainless steel bracelet has an expansion clasp for wear over a wet suit, then "folds down" for an exact fit under your dress cuff. A date window helps remind you of upcoming events.

Quality you can count on.

The Swiss quartz movement maintains accuracy of ±10 seconds per month. Powered by an in-place battery. Included instructions help you calculate diving time. One-year warranty.

First thing every morning, slip on your Tag Heuer diving watch. And no matter what you encounter, you'll have legendary durability and 130 years of timing accuracy at your side.

180 gallons of cool summer fun. Now improved.

On a hot and muggy afternoon, there's only one place to find cool relief—in the middle of a swimming pool. Aquarium Pool sets up in twenty minutes, and it's large enough to refresh the whole family. Inviting and colorful, it's also the perfect size for a child's first swimming lessons.

Portable. Durable. Colorful. The best inflatable pool you can buy.

Aquarium Pool is rugged 18-gauge PVC that's 50% thicker than flimsy kiddie pools. An anti-corrosive coating resists the harmful effects of ultraviolet rays and salt water. And this year's model is improved with reinforced, heat-welded seams and shorter, stronger sidewalls—to stand up to summer after summer of vigorous, family water play.

It's called Aquarium Pool because its clear sides let you keep an eye on kids from outside the pool. Multi-colored support beams allow you to sit on the edge and dangle your toes in the water. (Don't try this with an ordinary inflatable pool.) And a separately inflated bottom cell cushions the hard ground.

Pool is a foot-and-a-half deep and over six feet across. Weighs just 18 lbs., so you can take it along for a "pool party" at the beach or park. Includes a convenient drain plug—no need to tip pool to empty. Also comes with an easy-to-use repair kit. One-year warranty.

Setting up won't leave you breathless.

Aquarium Pool inflates in minutes with the optional Single Action Pump (or it can be inflated by mouth). Developed for white water rafting, the pump delivers up to 33 gallons of air per minute at 14 psi. Also ideal for filling air mattresses, rafts, and beach balls. Includes three all-purpose nozzle adapters and a 5′ flexible hose. Rugged ABS plastic housing. 90-day warranty.

This summer, don't hide inside with the air conditioning on. Treat your family and friends to a refreshing dip—anytime or anywhere. Order today, and be prepared for the first heat wave.

Enjoy deerskin comfort while driving, or walking outdoors.

The first time you slip your feet into these supple deerskin moccasins, you may not believe you're wearing shoes. Beneath the glove leather innersole are a soft foam panel and a perforated rubber innershoe that cushion every step. This combination sensuously pampers your feet.

Special PVC nubs on the soles make them durable for wear both indoors and out. The nubs also extend up the heel to protect the leather from wear as you drive .

Choose from three rich colors of supple deerskin: mocha, black, and natural (not shown). Made in the US by Minnetonka, premier crafters of authentic moccasins. Available in stores in full sizes 6-9 (with fringe top) for women, and 8-12 for men.

A greater range of sizes is available through mail order (ask the operator).

Don't risk scuffs and stains by driving in your dress shoes. Instead, slip on your Driving Moccasins. Your feet will thank you, mile after mile.

Fight fleas scientifically.

Chuckles is one of the thousands of pets who swear by The Sharper Image Electronic Flea Collar. This clean and odorless collar drives fleas away with ultrasonic waves—pitched well above human and animal hearing ranges.

In most cases fleas are gone in 2-3 weeks. Sound carries within a 4' radius, so fleas can't hop back on. We also suggest you set off a flea bomb to cleanse the environment.

Large, black web collar fits medium and large dogs. Smaller, safety-stretch white collar fits cats and small dogs. Both have reflective webbing for night visibility and a battery life LED. Batteries included; order more from the manufacturer or The Sharper Image.

If your pet is plagued with fleas, this collar may be the solution. If you are not completely satisfied, return the collar within 30 days for a refund. (But for the sake of your dog or cat, please do give it a try.)

Briefcase that looks like leather— wears like iron.

This eye-catching briefcase by Delsey of Paris appears to be crafted of leather. But closer inspection reveals Synertex®—a lightweight and extremely strong fabric, soft to the touch, yet highly resistant to scuffs and scratches. Even after years of commuting, this patented material still looks like new.

Three years in development.

The supple texture and exceptional strength of the Synertech briefcase are achieved by combining four specialized materials: Outside, a PVC-coated weave of polyester and cotton creates a waterproof, scratch-proof barrier against daily wear. Next, two layers of foam provide structure and protect contents from bumps and impacts. Lining is soft polyester.

For easy access, Delsey designed this case with a zip-down flap that opens to reveal credit card holders, a pocket for pens, and pouches for your calculator and glasses. The main compartment provides two gusseted pockets and a spring-loaded ring for your keys.

The rustproof aluminum lock opens smoothly on a single latch—you set the two-digit combination. For comfort and strength, the ergonomically designed handle is made of resilient foam over a nylon core. Both the lock and the handle are patented and exclusive to Delsey. Case wipes clean with a damp cloth. Measures 17L × 13H × 4D". One-year warranty.

Whistler's $119 detector has ESP (extra signal perception).

Whistler builds some of the most sophisticated radar detectors you can own, but the expensive components can push the price out of reach. Now, advances in microcircuitry let Whistler build a detector with the features drivers ask for most—and offer it for an economical price: just $119.

Whistler detects both X-band (10.525 GHz) and K-band (24.150 GHz), the frequencies used by more than nine out of ten US law enforcement agencies. Ultra-high sensitivity picks up even scattered radar over hills and around corners—favorite hiding places for speed traps.

Detector that doesn't cry wolf.

Patented Pollution Solution™ circuitry studies every signal and sifts out false alarms. Within .002 second, circuits can tell if a signal has been "leaked" by another detector and refrain from warning you—without losing maximum warning range. "Rashid" protection weeds out signals emitted by collision avoidance systems. And a City/Highway switch compensates for ricocheting signals in metropolitan areas.

Weak signals light two yellow LEDs and trigger the alarm. If the signal increases, the four red LEDs light and the alarm grows louder. Bright lights are easy to see without taking your eyes off the road. Volume control and mute switch let you adjust volume to accommodate sleeping passengers.

Clips to your visor, or mounts on the dash with the included kit. Comes with 5' cord that plugs into your cigarette lighter. Made of ABS plastic. Measures just 2½W × 4L × 1D". One-year warranty.

Tee up a secret weapon: Condor Gold.

Tee up the new Condor Gold™ golf ball, and surprise your partners with dramatically longer and straighter shots. Your secret: Condor Gold is inconspicuously smaller (4/100″) and heavier (3 grams) than ordinary balls—giving your shots greater velocity and carry. (Naturally, these balls are not approved for tournament use.)

We sold over 250,000 of the original Condor golf balls. Now, Condor Gold flies even farther off the tee—up to 28 yards farther than other leading brands. An aerodynamic, 410-dimple DuPont Surlyn™ cover achieves a higher trajectory and helps reduce hooks and slices. Inside, a new high-energy core transmits swing energy more efficiently, putting more birdies within reach. And new two-piece construction ensures long-lasting roundness for true putts.

Play Condor Golds, and when friends ask your secret, tell them you spent the winter at the practice range.

Ray Cook gives you a winning edge around the green.

Ray Cook putters have been winning tournament events—including every major title—for over 25 years. Ray Cook's latest is the Blue Goose™ putter—the first with a computer-milled head.

Carved from a block of hardened carbon steel, the Blue Goose putting surface is true to within 1/1000″—a claim no other putter can make. This smooth edge transmits your putting stroke to the ball with absolute precision—instead of leaving you to wonder, "what went wrong?" The natural resonance of solid steel gives every putt a confident feel, and heel/toe weighting keeps off-center hits on target. Single taper steel shaft is by True Temper,® and the oversized rubber grip is contoured for proper hand alignment.

When your approach shot leaves you on the fringe, reach for Ray Cook's Classic Plus™ Chipper. It combines the accuracy of a putter with the loft of an 8-iron (36°)—so winning chips are almost automatic. Just use your basic putting stroke, and Chipper gets you close to the hole. Massive brass inlays in the heel and toe keep the head from twisting in high grass.

Pound for pound, the best-designed golf bag ever.

We asked the leading custom golf bag designer to create a lightweight bag that didn't sacrifice the storage capacity or convenience of big, heavy "staff" bags.

The Belding Bushwhacker Golf Bag is the result. Crafted of rugged nylon pack cloth, it's a featherweight at just 6 lbs. Ten storage pockets keep your equipment accessible and organized. Best of all, the Belding Bag pampers your clubs with two full-length internal dividers, and an 8″ collar lined with plush, synthetic shearling.

A 3½″ wide plush shoulder strap distributes weight evenly, and a 3-point suspension system of durable nylon web stabilizes the bag while you walk. You also get three plush-lined head covers and a snap-on, padded travel hood (with an access zipper for foul weather play).

Other conveniences include a roomy accessory pocket, a full-length garment carrier, and an umbrella sleeve. Bag measures 34L × 12W.″ Rugged ABS molded base. One-year warranty.

Instead of lugging around a heavy, poorly-designed bag, order the Belding Golf Bag—and save your energy for the game.

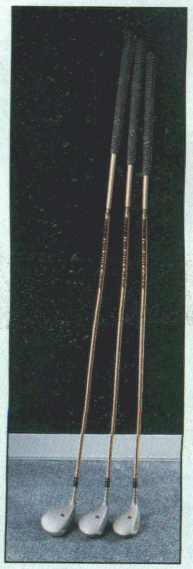
Pro Select Gold:

Tournament-caliber clubs bring you a longer, straighter game.

Golf pros don't fool around with gimmicks. So when you notice them playing something new, you can bet they believe in it.

Recently, many leading pros have switched to playing boron/graphite shafts and "metal woods." To bring you the same advantage, we asked Pro Select®—an affiliate of the world's largest club manufacturer—to develop a set for the intermediate-to-advanced amateur. Introducing the Pro Select Gold golf clubs—custom-built for Sharper Image customers.



Woods

To build a better club, start with an Aldila® shaft.

Reinforced with boron, the low-torque Aldila graphite shaft keeps the head square at impact, and resists twisting on off-center hits. Flex is rated medium-stiff, ideal for mid-to-low handicappers. And a low kick point creates a high trajectory for extra carry.

As durable as steel, these shafts are 30% lighter. So you can swing faster without swinging harder. This can mean dramatically longer drives, and fairway gains up to one full club (you might hit a Pro Select 5-iron as far as your steel-shaft 4-iron).

Irons

Straighter drives with less practice.

For unsurpassed playability, Pro Select "woods" are precision-cast 17-4 stainless steel. Perimeter weighting reduces the severity of mis-hits, to keep more of your drives in-bounds.

Driver is lofted at 10.5°—ideally matched to the flex properties of the Aldila shaft (3-wood is 15°, 5-wood 21°). Backs are aerodynamically dimpled, and heads are sandblasted for a rugged, scratch-resistant finish.

Smooth out your iron game.

Pro Select engineers realized most golfers, even pros, tend to push long irons to the right and pull short irons to the left. The innovative Flow Weight Control™ design conquers this common problem (see photo below).

By re-positioning the center of gravity closer to the toe in long irons, hands roll over properly at the bottom of the swing—eliminating open-face impacts that push the ball off-line. With the shorter clubs, weight is shifted into the heel—keeping approach shots from pulling to the left of the target.

Investment-cast stainless steel heads have a perimeter-weighted, deep cavity-back for an extra-wide sweet spot. Progressively offset hosels promote proper hand position with each club, and wide radius soles permit a clean take-away from any lie. Numbers appear on the sole and toe—to confirm your club selection at address. Heads are tumble polished and heat-treated with a durable gun-metal finish. Tour-approved "U-grooves" put optimum spin on the ball.

Order the sand wedge to complete your set. Its extra-wide sole won't dig into the trap, and its 56° loft gets the ball up and down quickly.

Fewer push-ups, faster results.

Do a regular pushup. Now try one on Excel's Chest Maximizer and feel the difference as you increase your thrust by 9 inches. Your chest muscles stretch to their full extension, increasing flexibility, then contract powerfully as your arms push through a longer motion. These deep push-ups give you three times the results in fewer reps—so even on your busiest days you can still find time to work out.

New spring-loaded adjustment pins eliminate awkward nuts and bolts, making it easy to set up the Chest Maximizer for different exercises. Position the grips at the widest setting and you isolate your pectoral muscles. Move them close together to concentrate on upper arms and shoulders. Called "proportional conditioning," this varied training provides the balanced upper-body workout recommended for stronger sports performance and total fitness.

High-density neoprene handgrips are twice as thick as grips on most competing models, and are contoured for comfort. Rubber feet prevent the Chest Maximizer from slipping, even during vigorous sessions. Heavy-gauge steel frame measures 36L × 13D × 9½H", and disassembles quickly for easy storage; weighs 6 lbs. One-year warranty.

Order Excel's Chest Maximizer today, and build the powerful upper body you want—without straining your pocketbook. Available exclusively from The Sharper Image.

Sony® wires joggers for digital FM stereo.

Sony's Sports FM headset is the first digital-tuning stereo that's water-resistant for use outdoors. You can enjoy your favorite FM music while working up a sweat jogging or hiking—with no dangling cords to get in your way.

If the music turns to talk, just reach up and press a button to lock into any of five preset stations. Or scan electronically up and down the band. For best reception, the PLL-synthesized tuner receives the exact broadcast frequency and displays it on the LCD panel.

Super comfortable dual headbands keep the headset firmly in place during exercise and adjust for a perfect fit. For quiet listening the headbands swivel together. Earphones are cushioned for comfort and deliver stirring, full-range stereo. Headset weighs only 6½ oz. Runs on 2 AA batteries (not included). One-year warranty.

This Sony headset radio is a complete, self-contained, mobile sound system. Order today, and replace the noises of the city with beautiful stereo music.

The best shave of your life—improved.

Today, more than 160,000 Sharper Image customers shave in the shower with the ShowerTek® mirror. The warm moisture softens whiskers, so you get a closer shave, with fewer nicks and cuts. And the patented mirror absolutely never fogs up.

This improved version is 15% larger than the original. The optical-quality, unbreakable acrylic mirror magnifies your image to make shaving easier. And a hanger on the back keeps your razor conveniently at hand.

ShowerTek screws directly into the showerhead (easy as changing a light bulb). Water circulates around the circumference of the frame and out 12 laser-drilled holes behind the mirror. The spray keeps the mirror at the same temperature as the mist in the air, so it never fogs.

For the truest reflection, the lens is backed with aluminum and protected by a mylar-like coating. The injection-molded body is Celcon,® an engineering-grade plastic. Measures 6¾" in diameter and 12½" long. Installation requires a pair of pliers.

Order ShowerTek today, and learn how pleasurable shaving can be.

Lifecycle® trainer puts you first across the finish line.

Lifecycle® aerobic trainers from Life Fitness are now used by ten professional football teams, five pro baseball teams, three hockey squads, and the sports medicine programs at over a dozen major universities.

From pro training camps to your local fitness club, Lifecycle® trainers are in constant use. Even people who hate to exercise enjoy working out on them. That's because a built-in computer automatically alters the pedal resistance, sculpting an artificial landscape that gives you an interesting and varied workout.

"So much more motivating than other stationary bikes!"

— Marty Cooksey, Distance Runner

In a study at the University of Massachusetts Medical School, researchers found that exercising three days per week on Lifecycle bikes brought about significant cardiovascular improvement. In fact, in just 12 minutes of varied Lifecycle training, test subjects received greater benefits than they did in 24 minutes at an unvaried pace. A study at an Oregon university concurred—and showed that subjects were more motivated to continue working out when their routine consisted of training on a Lifecycle.

The light array makes it easy to choose your programmed ride. As you ride, the display alternates among the total miles you've travelled (in 1/100 miles), the cumulative calories you've consumed, and the average caloric expenditure per hour. It's easy to chart your progress and compare one workout against another.

"Lifecycle is the cornerstone of our conditioning program."

— Keith Cedro, Conditioning Coach, NY Mets

Train anywhere—your own work powers the computer through the built-in heavy-duty alternator. Electronic pedal resistance means that there are no friction pads to wear out or make noise. Dual nylon drive belts are so quiet, you can listen to music or watch TV while you ride.

Measures 14½W × 53H × 43L"; weighs 65 lbs. Rolls easily on front casters. Wide, comfortable seat adjusts to fit all riders. Corrosion-resistant paint coats the strong, tubular steel frame. Non-slip pedal straps and comfortable foam handgrips provide an authentic bicycling feel. Lifetime sealed bearings. Assembles in five minutes (attach handlebars) with included tool. Comes with exercise guide and outstanding three-year warranty. HeartMinder (order below) gives you constant cardiovascular feedback to help you stay in your aerobic target zone. Monitor can also be used on stair climbers, and mountain or road bikes.

"I can't think of a better way to stay in shape."

— Carl Ekern, Linebacker

The luxury of soft, premium leather now goes to the gym.

Many sports bags are made in bright colors that shout "I go to the gym!" The Organizing Sports Bag is crafted from luxurious top-grain leather—the same butter-soft leather as our best-selling luggage. So you feel comfortable carrying it from the office to gym—or even as a spare carry-on bag.

Efficiency without the bulk.

Intelligently designed with a space for everything, the sports bag is still small enough to fit under an airplane seat. The roomy main compartment holds all your workout gear, a change of clothes for weekend trips, or photography or video equipment. A self-enclosed vinyl compartment keeps shoes, a damp swimsuit, or sweats away from dry clothes.

On the side, an organizer pocket with dual zippers offers easy access to a train pass, wallet, gym ID, or checkbook. You can also use this three-compartment organizer for toiletries or camera lenses. Another outside pocket holds your tennis or squash racket.

Carry by the adjustable, non-slip shoulder strap, built extra-long for comfort. Or detach the strap and grab the handles—two layers of premium leather are wrapped around a soft cushion core.

Built to age gracefully.

Premium craftsmanship includes double-sewn seams, matching piping, and water-resistant vinyl lining. Handsome matching hardware is anodized black. Plastic feet protect leather from wet floors. Measures 18½H × 11¾W × 9½D" (3 lbs.). Six-month warranty.

Isn't it time you owned a sports bag that complements the way you dress? Order now, and organize your leisure time in genuine leather.

The Shiatsu Massager: an age-old Japanese remedy for modern-day stress.

In ancient Japan, noble samurai warriors retained personal shiatsu masseurs to soothe their combat-weary bodies. Now, you can enjoy the same treatment after your daily battles. The Shiatsu Massager is the first device that simulates the circular, kneading technique of this centuries-old therapy.

Shiatsu (meaning "finger-pressure") practitioners believe manipulation of specific pressure points renews the natural harmony of body and mind. With the Shiatsu Massager, a heavy-duty, 36-watt motor powers two Teflon-coated "massage-nodes" to pinpoint and relieve deep strains and tension. The counter-rotating nodes turn in one-inch orbits, and adjust from 4" to 6" in width to suit different areas of the body.

Giving a Shiatsu massage is easy. Receiving one is divine.

With your partner lying face down, begin with the massage nodes straddling the spine. Let Shiatsu do the work; no extra force is necessary. As the nodes slowly "walk" up and down the back, neck kinks melt away, freedom of movement returns to tight shoulders, and knotted lower back muscles unwind. Use a light touch to massage thigh, calf, and arm muscles.

To enjoy a private massage, prop the Shiatsu against a chair or rest it on the bed, lean back, and enjoy. You feel muscular tension dissolve, and circulation revive. Your mind is clear and energized. It's powerful, so use your body weight to regulate massage intensity.

The Shiatsu Massager is available exclusively from The Sharper Image. Commercial-quality ½-amp motor turns quietly on sealed bearings and is burnout protected. UL-listed, with an extra-long 10' power cord. Measures 14L × 9W × 6½D" and weighs 6 lbs. Massage surface is covered with a washable cotton/lycra panel. Housing is unbreakable ABS plastic. Two-year warranty.

Order today, and keep your personal shiatsu master standing by to serve you—for the cost of a few professional massages.

Vintage military watch mobilizes for timing accuracy.

This Vintage Military Watch combines distinctive 1920s styling with the highest quality materials and construction.

The case is machined from solid brass, then plated with a generous 10 microns of sterling silver. A special buffing process gives the silver a distinctive patina and protects it from further tarnishing. Finally, a stainless steel back and genuine mineral glass crystal are attached to create a rugged barrier.

The large, luminescent numerals and gold-accented hour and minute hands are easy to read in sunlight or moonlight. Day and date are available at a glance, and the Swiss ETA quartz movement is military precise to within one minute per year.

Soft leather band is padded for comfort and double stitched for durability, even after years of wear. Silver-plated buckle is rounded for comfort against your wrist. Included battery lasts approximately three years. One-year warranty.

Strap on this Vintage Military Watch and launch all your urban assaults with ruggedness and Swiss precision. Available exclusively from The Sharper Image.

Motorize your morning tie search.

Every weekday, men across America participate in a national ritual: selecting a tie. Now, you can make your mornings more efficient with Fastrack,™ the motorized tie rack that keeps ties organized and at your fingertips.

Fastrack mounts on your closet rod and has room for 36 ties and belts. It works like a dry cleaner carousel: slide the button to the left or right, and the bi-directional motor rotates your ties toward you. You no longer waste time searching through coat pockets, hangers, or the closet floor.

When you turn on the motor, a built-in light helps you locate the right tie or belt in dark closets—without turning on an overhead light and disturbing your spouse.

Two minutes is all it takes to clip Fastrack into place. Runs on 2 D batteries (not included). Only 5″ wide and 15″ deep, it fits in the space of two suits. Comes with adapter for hanging from wire closet organizers. Made of strong ABS plastic. One-year warranty.

Lifeline makes the full-body workout fully portable.

The Lifeline Gym® turns ordinary stretching into serious exercise—and gives you a complete workout at home or on the road. Just 2½ lbs. light, this compact gym system zips into a 15L × 7H × 4D″ case, and tucks into your briefcase or carry-on.

Attach the safety restraint to any tightly closing door, and you can perform over 25 different aerobic and toning exercises for your torso, chest, arms, legs, back, and shoulders. Flexible rubber tubing (the strongest available) provides progressive, variable resistance throughout the full range of motion. Unlike lifting dead weight, exertion actually increases at the end of the stroke, and continues during the return. So using the included bar and handgrips gives you the flexibility and balanced muscle toning often missing from ordinary weight training.

Strap the included Velcro belt around your waist, and you can run in place against resistance. Or wrap it around your ankles for abdominal and leg exercises such as crunches, side bends, sprinter's lunge, etc. A 15-minute VHS videotape (included) shows you how to get the most out of the exercises. Also comes with detailed instructions and a six-month warranty.

Next time a business trip or busy day keeps you from the gym, simply unfold the Lifeline—and embark on a full-body workout.

Finally, a rack that fits most any bike and car—instantly.

Cycle Shuttle is the first bike rack that's so easy to use, you won't think twice about taking your bike along for day or weekend excursions.

Cycle Shuttle's dual-action hubs turn incrementally to fit almost any vehicle and bike in one easy adjustment. (Other racks have only 3-4 settings, which can make it difficult to get a precise fit to your car.) Simply position the locking hubs so one bar rests on your car's bumper, and the other rests against the trunk (or rear window on hatchbacks and vans). Now use the self-locking nylon straps to secure the rack to your car. High-density foam pads protect your car's finish.

Because Cycle Shuttle's steel supports are at waist level, you don't have to lift your bike over your head (as you would with a rooftop system). T-pull elastic cords keep bikes from bouncing when you hit a bump, and nylon sheathing prevents scratches.

The sturdy steel frame holds up to seventy pounds and easily supports two bikes (touring or mountain). A zinc coating prevents rust. Comes preassembled and measures 22½W × 18½H × 3D". Folds flat for easy storage. Quality-built in the US.

This spring, take advantage of the longer days and warmer weather. Order Cycle Shuttle and hit the road early (while others are still struggling to load their bikes).

Panasonic automates a grooming task.

Panasonic's Personal Grooming Device safely trims nose hair in seconds. The rotating stainless steel blade is fully enclosed inside a molded guard. Neatly clips hair without pulling, pinching, or nicks. The safe design absolutely prevents the blade from coming in contact with delicate tissues.

To clean, just remove the cutting head with a twist, and rinse under the tap. High rpm motor operates on one AA battery (not included). Fits conveniently in your shaving kit or cosmetic bag. Measures only 3½H × 1½W × 1D"; weighs just 2 oz. Quality Japanese construction of ABS plastic. Has sliding on/off switch and snap-on cap to protect the cutting head when you travel. One-year warranty.

The next evolution in serious radar detection: micro-size.

The size of a credit card (3½L × 2¼W" and ⅜" thick), Uniden's Micro-card radar detector is the smallest detector ever built. Yet it has the highest sensitivity of any detector on the market. The tiny size makes it easy to conceal and truly portable.

The micro-electronics have a sensitivity of -114dBm/cm² for X-band and -104dBm/cm² for K-band. To achieve these high levels, Micro-card employs a linear-polarized, E vector vertical antenna (internal) coupled to a scanning frequency discriminator detector.

This design condenses the proven technology used in a larger Uniden model that scored highest (beating even Cincinnati Microwave's Passport® and Escort®) in Road and Track's most recent tests (October, '89).

To reduce the nuisance of false alarms, Micro-card incorporates Uniden's proprietary E.D.I.T. (Electronic Data Interference Terminator) circuitry. City/Highway switch also cuts back on false alarms in urban areas.

When radar is detected, a three-stage LED lights up in sequence to show the signal's distance and strength. You also hear a warning tone. The bright orange warning light and louder tone are your best signs of police radar. You can toggle between full alert or buzzer only (no lights).

Plugs into the car lighter socket. Comes with straight and coiled 4' cords, and two-year parts and labor warranty.

Call today to test its performance risk-free for 30 days.

Yamani expands the attaché.

This expandable briefcase from Yamani has the formal good looks of a hard attaché—and the convenience of a portfolio. Magnetic snaps let you open and close the side flap without having to set the case down, and several organizer spaces keep everything within easy reach.

Empty, the gabardine-lined interior has roughly 4½ inches of depth. But as you add documents and other items, it expands to an ample 6½ inches. Now you can always find space for one more file—or even a change of clothing for overnight trips. The full array of pockets includes an accordion file, two snap-closed pouches, and a zippered pocket for valuables.

Quality you can feel.

Run your hand over the luxurious leather and it feels as soft as Italy's best. To achieve this supple texture, Yamani starts with the finest top-grain hides and uses a lengthy tanning process. The result is a deep, rich color that won't fade or crack. Next, the leather is milled and airblown, resulting in an almost padded feel. Craftsmen then wrap the leather around a frame made of luan, a hardwood chosen for its strength and light weight.

Steel combination locks ensure security. Stays have ball bearing hinges for long life. Measures 18¼L × 13¼W × 4 ½D". Six-month warranty.

Now you don't have to decide whether to buy a full-size attaché, a slim attaché, or a portfolio—this Yamani expanding case offers all three. Order today.

Sony® gives you three ways to talk.

Sony's newest version of its best-selling cordless phone now provides fast memory dialing, plus the convenience of a speakerphone in the base. You can converse over the comfortable corded handset; answer, dial, and talk hands-free over the speakerphone; or roam throughout your house and garden with the compact cordless handset.

This complete phone system even includes a step-saving intercom with two-way paging. You can answer a call at the base, page the handset, then transfer the call to the handset.

Improved electronics minimize static.

New noise reduction circuitry quiets the annoying pops, hisses, and static heard on some brands of cordless phones. Sony's unique built-in scanner searches through 10 frequencies to find the clearest channel for your calls using the handset. The high-gain helical antenna assures crisp reception over a range of up to 1,000'. One-in-a-million security code protects the privacy of your line.

Use the speed dialers to save time when you're calling family and friends. Base and cordless handset each dial ten numbers with one touch. Plus, three additional instant dial keys on the handset speed you through to doctor, police, and fire department, for example. Both also give you the convenience of last-number redial.

Two snap-in battery packs are included, so you can use one while the other is charging. Each powers the handset for eight hours or more of talk. Now the handset can operate a full week on standby between charges. You always have a fully charged handset, while the alternate battery plugs into the base. It's recharged in just 10 hours.

Handset has adjustable volume, channel auto-scan button, and LED battery strength gauge. Both phones have tone/pulse dialing, hold and flash keys, and adjustable ringers. Handset measures 14¾H × 2⅛W × 2⅜D" (12½ oz.) and has a detachable belt clip. Wall-mountable base is 3¼H × 7¼W × 8½D". Made in Japan of ABS. Plugs into phone jack and wall outlet. Available in black or ivory. One-year parts, 90-day labor warranty.

Even with all its improvements, this new Sony costs no more than last year's model. Order now and own the clear favorite in quality cordless phones.

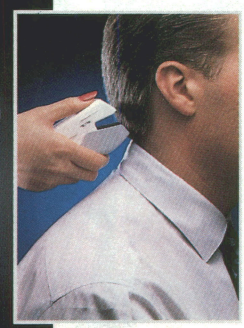
Panasonic keeps you neat between haircuts.

Panasonic's new Family Hair Trimmer is the first foolproof and easy home haircutting system. Just lift up hair with the built-in comb, select the length to be trimmed, and squeeze. The trimmer turns on automatically and neatly clips the hair. Release, and the trimmer turns off while you move to the next area. You can quickly cut bangs, collar line and long hair, and kids' hair. Easier, safer, cleaner, and much more accurate than scissors.



Flip the hinged comb down, switch on the trimmer, and now you can use it like barbers' clippers to groom beards, moustaches, and sideburns, and to trim around ears, temples, and along the back of the neck. Stainless steel cutting blades are recessed behind a protective guard to prevent nicks.

Made in Japan of sturdy ABS. Measures only 4½L × 1¾W × 1¾D″; weighs 5 oz. Quiet high-rpm motor is powered by 2 AA batteries (not included). Comes with instructions, cleaning brush, blade oil, and one-year warranty.

Why pay expensive salon rates when all you need is a quick trim? Order this trimmer, and stay neatly groomed between visits to your barber. Available only from The Sharper Image.

The 1990 Frequent Buyers™ Program lets you earn a reward.

Good customers deserve a reward.

Every product you buy from The Sharper Image earns you points toward valuable gift certificates. You receive one point for each dollar you spend between January 1, 1990 and December 31, 1990. Here is how your rewards add up:

1,500 points earn a $75 gift certificate.
3,000 points earn a $200 gift certificate.
6,000 points earn a $500 gift certificate.
(No one product can count for more than 1,400 points.)

How to claim your reward:

1. Save your sales receipts.
2. Add up all merchandise points, not including sales tax or delivery charges.
3. Deduct all refunds and price-matching credits.
4. Claim your reward by March 1991 (sales receipts must accompany redemption).
5. Receive gift certificates, and enjoy shopping.

Points are earned when products are purchased in a retail store, or upon delivery. Should an item be returned, the points will be deducted. Please save your original receipts (packed with items). They are your sole proof of points and must be returned by mail when requesting gift certificates. Points are not transferable.

Now, Wizard hands you the key to 23 cities.

Sharp's Wizard is the modern way to travel light and take all your personal and business data with you. This latest model doubles the built-in memory to 64K.

Sharp's efficient personal secretary is the centerpiece of an entire electronic management system. You can add a printer, more memory, custom software, even cables and software to connect Wizard to your PC or Macintosh.

Optional software cards slide in under the screen to give Wizard new powers.

Turn Wizard into your travel guide.

Optional software cards expand Wizard's powers. A new City Guide card is packed with 12,000 useful facts on 23 North American cities in ten categories (such as hotels, shopping, entertainment, etc.). A Money Planner card turns Wizard into a powerful, programmable financial calculator. A Time/Expense Management card helps budget your time, prioritize your day, and note expenses. Dictionary/Thesaurus card spells over 87,000 words and contains over 500,000 synonyms for 45,000 words. Translator card translates 360 phrases in 13 categories (600 common words) into eight languages. The 64K RAM card doubles Wizard's memory to 128K.

Easy to learn and use.

You can master Wizard's ergonomic, full-touch keyboard in 20 minutes or less. Easy-to-follow on-screen menus lead you step by step through each task. For example, to retrieve your data, just type any name or word contained in your entry and press Search.

You can use Wizard's schedule planner (with reminder alarm) to note your appointments, lunch dates, and travel plans. Wizard's memory stores up to 512 characters per entry and automatically sorts them into correct time order.

The built-in 200-year calendar displays monthly, weekly, and daily calendars, highlights dates when you have events scheduled, and keeps track of birthdays and annual events. Use Wizard as an electronic notebook to jot down memos, exchange rates, price lists, airline schedules, etc.

The telephone directory stores and retrieves up to 1,400 entries by name, company name, or address. Also has a digital local/world time clock with schedule alarms and seven daily alarms. Separate ten-digit calculator (with three-key memory, 8-line display, percent, and square root) can scroll through up to 50 lines of figures. "What if" function lets you go back and change numbers to get a new total.

Optional PC interface (for IBM compatibles) or Mac Link (for Macintosh computers) comes with hardware, cable, AC adapter, and menu-driven software (on both 3½" and 5¼" discs). Closed, Wizard measures only 6½H × 3¾W × ⅞D" (8 oz.). Includes in-place batteries and one-year warranty.

Call now and own the pocket computer that puts an entire management system at your fingertips.

After 235 years of scholarly silence, the dictionary speaks. Now $359.

At electronic speed, Franklin's Speaking Language Master not only gives you the complete definitions and correct spellings of over 83,000 words from the Merriam-Webster® dictionary, it also pronounces them—clearly and correctly. (Just press the Say key.) Franklin even distinguishes between words that are spelled the same, but pronounced differently. Yet the book-size console measures only 1H × 7L × 4W" (weighs 12 oz.).

Besides definitions, the dictionary also indicates hyphenation, the part of speech, and all inflected forms of each word. For difficult-to-spell words, just type them in phonetically. Franklin also has a handy Search function that can fill in blank letters in crosswords and puzzles.

The electronic thesaurus contains over 487,000 synonyms for 40,000 words. Built-in games include hangman, jumble, anagrams, plus Franklin's Deduction,™ Franklin's Clue Master,™ and Franklin's Memory Challenge.™ A special Vocabulary Builder quizzes you on 3,500 advanced words. Even has built-in electronic dice for board games.

The full-stroke keyboard, ten separate function keys, and large four-line screen make Franklin a pleasure to use. For quick assistance anytime, press the Help key.

Runs on 4 AA batteries (included). Automatic power shutoff. Built-in speaker and earphone jack. Comes with carrying case and one-year warranty.

Deluxe pool: Authentic big-table action that fits any room.

For over four years, miniature pool tables sold by The Sharper Image have been some of the most popular attractions in our stores. Many enthusiasts end up purchasing a table to play at home, at their vacation cottage—anywhere they want the excitement of a full-size table in a limited space.

This larger Deluxe version has over 25% more playing surface. (Don't confuse it with the smaller version sold elsewhere for the same price.) Markings on this Deluxe model also let you play exciting games of snooker with the optional accessory kit available only from The Sharper Image. The original version is still available at the special price of $129.

You still get the solid look and action of authentic Kelly balls, the unerring bounce off precision rubber cushions. Even the physics of trick shooting and putting "English" on the ball are the same. Because all the equipment is scaled down at the same ratio, a length-of-table shot is just as challenging as on the largest clubhouse table.

Set up the table permanently: it measures only 30H × 26½W × 50L". (Original version is 29H × 24W × 44L".) Or keep either table in a closet (legs and cue sticks unscrew for storage). Table has a solid plywood base to provide a true roll for the 1½" cast resin balls. The felt is 50% polyester/50% wool. Hardwood side rails and legs are stained a rich mahogany. Hardware is brass. Comes with balls, two cue sticks, triangle, chalk, and table brush. Use the included wrench for the simple, 5-minute assembly.

The only scaled-down tables endorsed by billiards legend Minnesota Fats, Deluxe Pool is a fascinating way to master this grand game of skill.

Compact binoculars make focusing obsolete.

Jason's compact 7 × 21 binoculars fold to fit in your pocket, weigh only 7 oz., and never require focusing. Everything from 40′ to infinity is always in focus.

The optical glass lenses magnify distant objects seven times and are fully coated with magnesium fluoride. Rubber eyecups block peripheral glare and fold down for use with eyeglasses or sunglasses. No diopter adjustments required. For use by people with normal or corrected vision (not recommended for persons with uncorrected vision or astigmatism).

A durable rubber coating over the metal housing protects against bumps and scrapes. Measures just 3½L × 2⅛W × 1½D". Comes with lens cloth, dust caps, neck strap, and soft nylon case with shoulder strap. Rugged Japanese construction backed by a lifetime warranty.

Now up your sleeve: time, stopwatch, alarms, and 129 world cities.

With the press of a button, Casio's new World Time watch will display the time in any of 129 cities around the globe. An LCD world map on the dial shows any of 29 time zones, with a line connecting the major cities in that zone. For each location you see the time, a three-digit city code, the day, date, a.m./p.m., and daylight savings time indicator. One hundred cities are programmed in and you can add 29 more locations you need for your business and travels.

On the road you can make either the analog dial or the digital display your home time. This talented watch also has: Three daily alarms, each of which can be set to any time zone. A cancellable hourly time signal. A handy countdown timer (from 1 second to 24 hours). A 24-hour stopwatch that can time for split laps or two competitors with 1/100 second accuracy. And easy forward and reverse time setting. Casio even programmed the calendar for all months and leap years until 2029.

The Sharper Image is your Casio source.

Whether you're a sky diver or a skin diver, there's a Casio sport watch built for you—and The Sharper Image makes it easy to select the right one. Each Casio pictured here offers Japanese quartz accuracy within 20 seconds per month, water- and shock-resistant resin case, dual analog and digital displays, alarm and stopwatch functions, two-year lithium battery, and a one-year warranty.

Shown below (left to right): Diver's Watch has luminescent hands and dial and a ratcheted timing bezel. Tri-Graph's LCD sub-dials display analog time, alarm status, and a sweep second hand. Thermometer senses air or water temperature in Fahrenheit (14°-140°) or centigrade scales. And Alti-Depth Meter builds in a precision altimeter (±13,200 ft.), underwater depth meter (to -100 ft.), and an atmospheric barometer to monitor weather changes.

When you need the correct time in Seoul, or the temperature on the beach, Casio gives the answer in seconds. Order yours today.

Main Street Baseball™ is your ticket to the majors.

Down by a run in the bottom of the ninth, do you let slugger Jose Canseco swing away, or pinch hit with Rickey Henderson?

It's your decision when you play Main Street Baseball,™ the most realistic table-top baseball game ever. An advanced microchip and built-in bar code scanner bring baseball cards to life by "reading" actual statistics into the game. So the Canseco card hits more home runs, while Henderson's steals more bases.

Game includes 24 all-star baseball cards. Sharper Image customers also receive updated 1989 statistics on 624 adhesive labels—one for every major league player. Apply the coded stickers to any cards, and replay the World Series or manage your "dream team."

Slide a card through the scanner, then watch for your pitch on the animated LCD screen (curve, change-up, or fastball). Press the Bat key to swing for the fences. The computer combines player stats (like average, slugging percentage, and pitching speed) with your strategy, timing, and coordination. Play with a friend, or challenge the pre-programmed "Main Street Nine."

Automatic scoring and sound effects add realism to the game. Insert 4 AA batteries (not included), and play ball. Stadium console is 3D × 10" square. ABS construction. 90-day warranty.

Main Street Baseball is a card collector's dream come true—letting you draft, trade and manage major league stars every season. Order today, and make the game of summer last all year long.

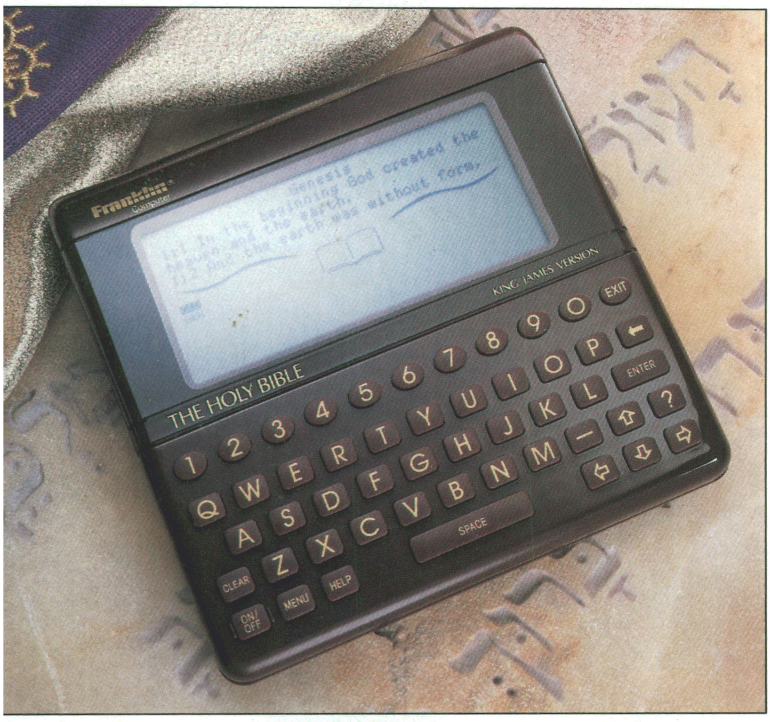
Bible of the future locates any verse in seconds.

Where in the Bible is the parable of the good Samaritan? Now, with the aid of the latest micro-electronics, you can locate this or any other Bible passage in seconds.

Franklin's Electronic Holy Bible contains the entire text of the King James Version—both Old and New Testaments.



You can read as you would a printed Bible. Or use the comprehensive concordance (index) and powerful Search function to find any chapter or verse.

Just type in key words or phrases. For example, "valley," "shadow," and "death" lead you instantly to the 23rd Psalm. If you don't have the precise word, the built-in thesaurus automatically searches for close words. The huge 1+ megabyte memory even corrects your spelling or capitalization errors.

The easy-to-read supertwist LCD screen displays four lines of text and indicates which of the Bible's 66 books the current passage is from. Bookmark function turns quickly to your eight favorite verses. Help key and printed instructions on the bottom make the Electronic Bible easy to use.

Rugged ABS console measures only 5½" square × 1D". Includes 4 AA batteries. Comes with case and one-year warranty.

Call now to test what's being hailed as "the most dramatic advance in Bible accessibility" since the first printed Bible more than 500 years ago.

A doctor's scale for accurate weight loss.

Serious weight loss programs require accurate weighings. But most home bathroom scales are notoriously inaccurate. The Seca scale is used in doctors' offices, clinics, and gyms. It meets the rigid standards of the West German Bureau of Weights and Measures: accuracy is ±½% of your total weight.

The large, full-vision dial is extremely easy to read. All-steel construction stands up under years of repeated stress. Maximum capacity is 320 lbs. The lens is virtually unbreakable; the mat is slip-proof. Completely mechanical movement is the world's best. Measures 4H × 12W × 17D" and weighs 10 lbs.

Made in Germany and warranted for three full years, Seca is the last scale you'll ever need to buy.

All-weather high fidelity.

These Bose 101 outdoor speakers use the same advanced driver technology as the legendary 901s. Only now you enjoy rich sound anywhere—at the pool, on the deck, even sailing.

Plug them into your receiver, and hear how Bose captures the clarity of every note. Patented equalization circuitry reduces hiss for crisp highs and lows with virtually no distortion. Dual tuned bass ports impart deep, resounding bass—even amplified to 100 watts. Your guests won't believe such uncommonly smooth sound comes from two speakers just 6H × 9W × 5½D".

The cabinet is molded of a rugged polymer to withstand jolts and drops. The aluminum alloy grill won't rip or sag like cloth grills. Even the hardware resists corrosion.

Speakers are sturdy enough to keep playing under water. And even in temperatures as extreme as ±180°F. They're ideal for your boat, sauna, or off-road vehicle. Bose backs the 101s with an exceptional five-year warranty.

Made in the US, speakers weigh 4½ lbs. each. Use the optional brackets to mount them in your workshop, den, or office.

For extraordinary sound outdoors, call now and test a pair risk-free for 30 days.

The luxury of travelling with leather.

These suitcases are made from the richest, softest leather available—top-grain Nappa cowhide that's been slowly drum-dyed. This lengthy process allows the black color to penetrate the leather slowly. (Cheap leather cracks and peels within months, because the color is applied only to the top layer.)

The luggage is still handsome and luxurious even after the roughest trips, because it is solidly crafted—starting with the inner frame of reinforced steel. All seams are meticulously double-stitched, with piping added at stress points for extra reinforcement. Interiors are lined with water-resistant nylon.

The strong, wide zippers are self-repairing, and have extra give. Once zipped, they lock for security (two keys included). After you've packed, stash books, cosmetics, and last-minute purchases into two roomy saddlebags. Two leather stays keep bags firmly closed; when you're ready to unpack, fasteners spring open easily.

Pack, and go.

Because this extra-roomy Pullman suitcase rolls on wheels, it is remarkably easy to maneuver. Thick, double-padded leather handles are comfortable to carry, even when suitcase is full. Measures 18½H × 26W × 8D″; weighs 7 lbs.

Garment Bag has built-in stabilizers to keep suits looking freshly pressed. Advanced clamp system grips up to four metal hangers; two roomy pockets inside hold your shaving kit, shoes, casual and exercise wear—everything you need for a weekend away. Hang from the removable hook, or carry folded. Measures 42L × 23W × 3D″, weighs 4½ lbs.

Carry-on is a compact, airline-approved case that holds a surprising amount of gear. Three zips lead to roomy compartments, one with a tie-down strap that keeps clothing neatly in place. Adjustable, detachable shoulder strap. Measures 12½H × 20W × 8D″; weighs 4 lbs.

Pack mule disguised as a luggage cart.

Load your bags onto this rugged Clipper, the best-engineered luggage cart you can own.

Folding Luggage Cart

The extra-strong, telescoping aluminum tubes open or close in a single motion. Then pull up on the center crossbar to lock them in place. There are no wing nuts or complicated fasteners. Extends to a full 37″ high, so you can pull it without stooping over.

Large 9 × 12″ load tray of chrome-plated steel holds up to 100 lbs. and has a 4½″ extension that folds down in the front for oversized parcels. Sturdy outriggers on the sides hold bags in place and prevent them from scraping against the wheels. And your bags are 4″ off the ground (not 1-2″ as with other carts), to keep them out of puddles, mud, and snow. Weighs 4lbs.

Compact cart folds to just 17H × 12W × 4D″ and stows easily in airplane overhead compartments. So well made, it's backed by a five-year warranty.

You plan your vacations with care. Now give the same attention to your travelling companions. Order these rich leather bags in time for your next trip.

Rich Italian leather, made affordable in the Orient.

When a buyer for The Sharper Image discovered these leather pieces, he assumed they were made in Italy. The full-grain leather is so supple, and the workmanship impeccable. The surprise came when he checked the prices: about half what one would expect to pay for Italian leather.

Our buyer was almost right. The Vincenza soft case, Roma attaché, Palermo Jewelry Box, and Siena Travel kit, are handcrafted from premium Italian leather and solid brass—but in the Orient. Craftsmen follow rigid design specifications to ensure the highest quality. Pieces carry one-year warranties.

The Vincenza is soft and flexible enough to hold all your files, yet has enough structure to keep contents neatly organized. Three gussetted compartments expand like an accordion to a full six inches. Double-wrapped leather handle and detachable shoulder strap. For security, there is a locking clasp (key included). Measures 17L × 12W″.

Black and tan calfskin on the Roma covers a dovetail-jointed hardwood frame. Attention to detail includes a padded leather handle and quilted pigskin lining. European Castiglioni® tumbler locks can be set with separate combinations. Measures 18L × 13W″.

Come see and feel this Italian leather in our stores. Or call today to appreciate its extraordinary quality at home.

Anastasia Collection®

More and more jewelry lovers are discovering the beauty of well-crafted faux pieces. Sharing nothing with "costume" jewelry of the past, the faux gems selected for the Anastasia Collection duplicate the deep color, brilliance, and durability of natural jewels—at a fraction of the cost. And because our buyers purchase gems directly from the source, the savings are even more dramatic.

At parties, the theater, while travelling, these fabulous fakes make a distinctive impression. Only a jeweler's careful scrutiny would reveal their true identity. But ask an expert to price natural gems of this quality—and the beauty of your investment is confirmed.

Liquid silver.

Native American artisans fashion these unusual jewelry pieces from thousands of tiny sterling silver beads. The effect is called "liquid silver" because the shimmering beads reflect light like molten metal. Using a hand-stringing technique, Indians in the Southwest create masterpieces of decorative and ceremonial jewelry.

Although these earrings, necklaces, and bracelet are Western in feeling, their classic, simple lines complement many styles of dress—both relaxed and formal. Perfect for wear during elegant, candle-lit dinners.

■ Liquid Silver Necklace. Necklace measures 30″ and contains 50 strands of beads. Fastens with a sturdy hook clasp.

Hit the courts armed with a power tool.

Martina Navratilova is only one of the top pros to switch to the revolutionary "wide-body" racket—the biggest innovation in tennis since oversize rackets hit the courts in 1976. Patented by Wilson, the Staff DTS has a frame that's about twice as thick as ordinary rackets—providing extra power, with superior vibration dampening.

Power minus vibration.

Until now, extra power came with a painful side effect—vibration. The reason: conventional stiff frames oscillate back and forth like a diving board after each hit. But Wilson's Dual Taper System (DTS) frame is engineered to recover its shape while the ball is still on the strings. So the power of your swing is transferred to the ball, not back up your arm—easing stress on elbows and wrists.

The hollow-core graphite frame is reinforced with super-rigid Kevlar fiber. Then, exclusively for Sharper Image customers, the frame is injected with BetaGel™—a patented, shock-absorbing silcone compound. This construction effectively distributes energy over the entire hitting surface. In fact, tests prove the Staff DTS has a 25% larger sweet spot than the leading over-size racket. Wrapped with a leather grip, and strung with Wilson's synthetic gut to an optimal 58 lbs. Total weight is just 12 oz. Grips in three sizes: 4⅜", 4½", and 4⅝." Includes a full-length thermal cover with an open-mesh grip vent.

Once you experience the power of the Staff DTS, you won't want to go on court without it. Order today.

Finally, the gym bag gets in shape.

This ingenious sports bag stands upright and unzips from the side—not the top. So it fits neatly into your locker at the gym and opens wide like your locker door. Just 15H × 7¾W × 13½D," the upright design still holds a full cubic foot of gear—without rumpling your clothes like unstructured bags.

A fold-down shelf separates soiled shoes from your clean towel and exercise wear. Remove your gear, and you've got a clean place to put your slacks, business shoes, and tie. Plus, two pockets outside hold keys, change, and watch while you exercise.

After your workout, your toiletries are at your fingertips. Grooming kit includes two 5 oz. refillable bottles for shampoo and lotion, a soap case, brush, comb, mirror, and toothbrush holder. There's also a roomy vinyl-lined pocket for your damp swimsuit or shirt. An outside pocket holds a racket or magazine.

Survives the toughest workouts.

Bag is built around a rigid frame of honeycombed plastic with inner stabilizing bars. Rugged 420 denier nylon shell goes from gym to baggage carousel (also slips under airline seats). Carry by hand or use the adjustable, detachable shoulder strap.

Order the original Locker Bag—and get in and out of the locker room fast.

A space suit for the eyes.

Tekna sunglasses are specially designed to provide maximum sun protection—without sacrificing true colors.

Tekna coats their neutral-color optical glass with micro-thin layers of titanium and silicon oxides—elements that selectively filter out harsh ultraviolet rays (99.9% of UVA and 100% of UVB), and 100% of the infrared radiation (IR) that can cause eyestrain.

The lens coatings also suppress over 90% of blue light within the critical 400-500 nanometer range. Yet the colors that pass through the neutral color glass are completely true to life.

Imagine: you can find the home-team jersey without taking off your sunglasses. Or spot identifying markings on a distant hawk or sailboat. The reduction of blue light means you can "read" moguls or the spiral of a football—even on hazy, overcast, or stormy days.

US-made lenses are heat-tempered for shatter resistance, and given a final coating with the hardness of sapphire. This renders them ten times more resistant to abrasion than the industry standard.

Japanese frames are molded from Zytel® nylon that deflects heat and cold to retain shape. Wire-reinforced, 135mm temples rest comfortably on your ears. Nickel-silver hinges use self-locking nylon-core screws. Each pair comes in a top-grain leather case. One-year warranty.

Try on Tekna sunglasses, and see how far technology has come since you bought your last pair. Available exclusively from The Sharper Image.

Japan makes the sonic massager more soothing.

The HWE Sonic Massager from Japan soothes your tired muscles with penetrating waves of "intrasound" (audible frequencies). A state-of-the-art head design converts more of the pulses into intrasound, reducing spurious noise. Noticeably quieter than other brands, it creates a feeling of well-being as deep as 4" beneath your skin.

Feel relief, not vibration.

At its highest setting, the 7,000 rpm motor generates pure sonic vibrations of approximately 1,000,000 cycles/minute—130 times greater than conventional vibrating massagers. Waves don't reverberate into your hand, but spread deeply where you direct them to release pent-up tensions, stimulate circulation, and soothe over-stressed muscles and joints—without drugs or chemicals.

Press the vibrating head lightly against your skin. Immediately, you will feel the sonic energy propagating into your body. Turn the intensity adjustment dial to a level that feels comfortable to you.

Now, move in small circular strokes—applying intrasound for about 3 to 5 minutes in any one area. HWE suggests you limit massages to no longer than 20 minutes at a time. (Not for use on inflamed areas or open wounds.)

For general use, screw on the convex head and massage your back and shoulders, legs, arms, etc. Switch to the acu-node head to concentrate massage on a specific area. Use the wide-surface head to give an all-over massage. The multiple acu-nodes stimulate broad areas of your skin.

Quality Japanese construction features a rugged housing of chrome-plated ABS. Measures 8L × 3W × 1½D"; weighs 11 oz. Plugs in with 10' cord. Comes with carrying case and one-year warranty.

Completely safe, intrasound sonic massagers have been used by health clinics for over 30 years. Endorsed by trainers and athletes around the world. To experience the quiet, soothing performance of the most advanced sonic massager, order today. Available exclusively from The Sharper Image.

Fanfare's pocket translator improved—five languages and 75% more words.

Fanfare introduced the first palm-sized electronic translator fluent in English, Spanish, French, German, and Italian. Now Fanfare's advanced database contains 13,000 words and uses American English. So you can always find the words you need and use them accurately.

Fanfare's extensive database was compiled specially for business travellers, tourists, and students—and cross-referenced with the help of expert linguists from each country to give you exact translations. In each language you get instant access to 2,600 indispensable words, such as "bathroom," "train station," "hospital," and "police." Plus everday words—like "beer," "dance," "movie," and "love"—that can help you start conversations.

Leave bulky dictionaries at home.

You simply type in a word and press one of the five color-coded language buttons. Instantly, the LCD screen reveals the translation (or ? if the word is unknown). New 8-character screen shows longer words, so you use the scroll button less. Space button lets you key in two-word phrases, while backspace lets you erase mistakes. Alphabetical-order keyboard makes it easy to type in foreign words for translation into English.

Only 5½H × 2½W × ½D" (7 oz.), Fanfare slips into pocket, briefcase, or purse. Made of durable ABS. Slide-on cover protects the positive-touch keys. Requires 4 AAA batteries. One-minute auto shutoff saves battery life. One-year warranty.

The more you are able to communicate with people, the more rewarding your trip will be. Make Fanfare your passport to the real Europe.

Panasonic invents the reliable, affordable answering machine/phone. Only $99.

Thanks to advances in microprocessor circuitry, Panasonic can now build a modern auto-dialing telephone with a built-in answering machine for under $100.

Panasonic records both your outgoing and incoming messages on a single, easily replaceable microcassette. Call the answering machine from any tone phone and replay your messages. Or record a new outgoing message or switch on the answering machine—all without a beeper. When you're at home, you can screen calls over the built-in monitor speaker. If you answer while your message is playing, the machine stops automatically. Push a button, and Panasonic will record both sides of your phone conversation.

The modern telephone will save you time by speed-dialing your 12 most frequently called numbers (up to 16 digits each). Last number redial speeds you through busy signals.

Also has tone/pulse dialing, Flash and Hold buttons, and high/low/off ringer. Built in Japan of rugged ABS. Measures only 4H × 8L × 6W." Plugs into phone jack and wall outlet. Can be wall-mounted. One-year warranty.

At just $99, this feature-packed Panasonic is one of the best telephone values The Sharper Image has ever offered. Order now.

European solution to CD clutter.

Most CD racks are built like miniature bookshelves. But why spend money on compact discs, only to conceal them in cabinets where you can't read the labels? In Europe, fine stereo stores display their music selections on these ingenious organizers, made in Austria of brushed aluminum.

Place up to 33 CD cases in the precision-machined tracks. A bevelled edge on each track allows them to tilt forward or backward without falling over, so you can quickly scan through to choose a title. Cases simply lift out for play.

Space-saving design fits easily on your stereo cabinet or shelf. Organizers are divided into equal sections by sturdy black ABS strips. Measures 18L × 7¼W". Comes fully assembled, with a two-year warranty.

Don't hide your fine music. Keep it close at hand, on the first organizer designed to display your CDs.

Dental care breakthrough: Purify your toothbrush with ultraviolet light.

Purebrush® is a revolutionary new dental device that sanitizes your toothbrush after every brushing. Bacteria, sugars, molds, yeasts, and viruses are obliterated by an intense ultraviolet light—the same advanced technology now used by doctors and hospitals to sterilize their surgical and dental instruments.

"... the instruments we use in the office have to be sterilized. Why shouldn't the instruments at home be germ-free as well?"

—Edward Peters, DDS

A University of Oklahoma Dental School study found that dozens of harmful bacteria inhabit both natural and synthetic-bristle toothbrushes.

A pair of moist brushes left side by side in a medicine cabinet provides an ideal breeding ground for germs and viruses. Cold and flu viruses—even the bacteria that cause gingivitis—can travel from brush to brush.

Researchers at the Royal Dental Hospital of London found that adults who traded in their toothbrushes every two weeks had significantly less plaque buildup than those who used the same brush for ten weeks. Purebrush achieves the same result—without your having to buy new brushes.

In fact, when you use Purebrush, your broken-in brush may be cleaner than "new." The Oklahoma study found that four out of ten brand-new toothbrushes were contaminated with germs right out of the box. Purebrush's ultraviolet light eliminates from those "new" brushes even the Staphylococcus epidermis. (Normally found on the skin, these bacteria can cause unpleasant infections when transferred to the mouth.)

"I would definitely recommend Purebrush to any of my patients. I wouldn't be without one personally."

—Samuel Mallamo, DDS

Purebrush holds four brushes at a time, so the whole family can benefit. And unlike the other models, it purifies the entire length of the brush, to remove bacteria from the handle too. Purebrush is the only model that accommodates the heads from both Waterpik® and the popular Interplak® tooth care systems.

To use, you simply place your brush on the rack, slide the door closed, and turn on the switch. The one-hour cycle kills bacteria and dries out the bristles to remove the germ-loving aqueous environment. The bulb will not light unless the safety-designed door is completely closed.

"It is probably the most innovative oral hygiene product to come on the market since the toothbrush itself."

—Thomas W. Roberts, DDS

The low-wattage bulb (included) lasts for over 1,000 uses, and can be easily replaced by the manufacturer (order form included). Plugs into wall outlet, and is UL-listed. Molded of ABS plastic. Mounts on wall with included bracket, or stands upright on a vanity. At just 11½H × 5½W × 6½D", it won't crowd your bathroom. One-year warranty (excludes bulb).

When you want to make sure your mouth and teeth are clean, it makes sense to start with a brush that's free of germs and bacteria. Order Purebrush, and keep your toothbrush and smile at their freshest.

Finally, a car alarm that really works.

Easy-to-install CounterAttack alarm from Rabbit Systems is effective because the intense 110 decibel siren blasts inside your car—making it nearly impossible for anyone to enter. (Imagine a fire engine siren inside your car.)

The intelligent design also guards against accidental activation while you or passengers are in the car. You must press buttons in sequence to activate the alarm.

A new infrasonic detection module responds instantly to a window being broken, or a door or the trunk being opened—triggering the small siren unit you affix to a window with high-strength adhesive pads. A blinking LED on the siren deters thieves and shows you the alarm is activated. Alarm turns off by pressing a button on the keychain remote control.

Since operation is totally wireless, you can install CounterAttack yourself in just minutes. Under-seat detector (with security cable lock) measures 5¾L × 3¾W × 2⅛H," runs on 4 D batteries (not included), and beeps when batteries are low. Siren is 5½L × 2⅕W × 1⅛D," uses 6 AA batteries (not included), and has a low battery indicator. Key chain remote runs on 4 included calculator batteries. Tunturi builds an iron man's physique—on an executive's schedule. Now $599.

Staying fit means staying motivated. That's why more and more athletes are cross training—following a varied workout program in pursuit of total-body fitness. But how many people really have the time to stretch, run, swim, cycle, and lift?

Now you can get many of the benefits of a cross-training program on one machine: the Tunturi™ Air Trainer. The Air Trainer gives you a simultaneous upper and lower body workout—combining the aerobic benefits of cycling with the muscle toning action of rowing. Best of all, a complete Tunturi workout can take just 20 minutes, three times a week.

LCD displays elapsed time—plus cumulative distance, pulse rate, rpm, and more.

The "bike" that builds your arms.

Tunturi is the first dual-action trainer that isolates the rowing motion—so there's no "free ride" for your arms. Your upper and lower body work independently against equal resistance. (Or, get a vigorous rowing workout while your feet rest on the pedals.)

The back-and-forth rowing motion stretches tense, knotted muscles and improves flexibility. And because you're using more muscles than running or cycling alone, you get the thorough cardiovascular training recommended by sports physiologists. Afterwards, your arms feel "pumped"—while your neck, shoulders and back feel like they were treated to a deep massage.

Ride against the wind.

Other stationary bikes use complex gearing or caliper brakes to provide resistance. On the Air Trainer, you power a precision-engineered fan wheel. The harder you push, the more air you must move.

The result is smooth, progressive resistance—without sudden load changes that disrupt your workout. Unlike mechanical systems, Tunturi is quiet and maintenance-free. And as you pedal, you'll notice an extra benefit—the fan stirs a cooling breeze.

Your total physical performance is analyzed by an on-board computer. The LCD panel shows rpm, speed in mph, cumulative distance, and time—in elapsed or countdown modes (up to 99 minutes). Press Scan, and all functions are monitored on a five-second cycle—motivating your peak performance.

Pulse monitor pushes you to the limit—safely.

Clip the comfortable cardio-monitor (included) to your earlobe, and key in your personal pulse limit. (Included fitness guide calculates your aerobic "target zone" based on your age and weight.) A beep sounds when you reach your peak pulse rate. Maintaining a safe, constant pulse rate, you'll attain greater speed and distance readings as your fitness improves.

The ergonomic seat adjusts quickly for riders of any height. Bicycle-style toe straps work your leg muscles on both up and downward strokes. Solid, 16-gauge welded steel frame. A fine-tooth chain powers the fan wheel for quiet, vibration-free performance. And twin front rollers make the Air Trainer easy to roll into a closet.

The 30-minute assembly (attaching legs, seat, electronic console, and handlebars) is simple, and necessary tools are included. Electronics run on two AA batteries, also included. Measures 48H × 44L × 20W" (84 lbs.). Two-year warranty.

Escape the crowded gym.

For the price of a fitness club membership, Tunturi gives you a total-body workout anytime, in the privacy of your home or office. In one hour a week, you'll achieve a leaner, firmer body and a more relaxed state of mind. Order today.

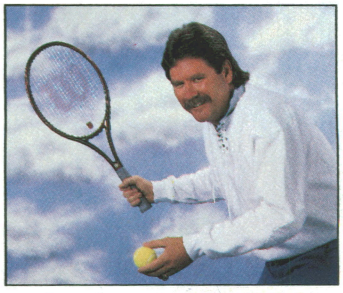
Let a computer reverse your smoking habit. For good.

No one needs to tell you smoking is a powerful habit. Now real help is here. New LifeSign® uses a small computer—about the size of a credit card—to change your smoking routine and ease you gradually off cigarettes. Studies at major medical research institutions and universities confirm LifeSign is up to three times more effective than other self-help, stop-smoking methods.

Behavior modification through computer technology.



Experience once again the vitality you felt before you started smoking.

The first week, you simply press the Smoke button every time you light up. The computer registers your smoking patterns, then automatically calculates a withdrawal plan based on the way you smoke.

The second week, the computer counts down to your next cigarette and signals you when to smoke. Slowly, at a carefully timed pace, it stretches the interval between cigarettes. Depending upon your smoking habit, this phased withdrawal will last from two to five weeks.

LifeSign puts you in control.

LifeSign works because it slowly decreases your dependence on nicotine by reversing the process that got you hooked. Your body is not thrown off-balance, because you alter your behavior pattern at the pace that works best for you. Each day you use LifeSign you'll smoke less and less, until you no longer want to smoke at all.

LifeSign comes with a Program Guide to give you support while you're quitting and help you remain a successful ex-smoker. You'll learn how to replace cigarettes with things that work for you, not against you. How to handle your emotions and frustrations. And how to deal with "high risk" smoking situations.

Also included is an information-packed VHS video, with real people sharing inspiring stories about how they successfully used LifeSign.

LifeSign measures 3¼L × 2¼W × ¼D"; weighs only 1½ oz. Lithium cell battery included. One-year warranty.

Developed with support from the US Public Health Service, LifeSign has been used by over 400 corporations. It's natural, safe, and it really works. The cost is less than two months' worth of cigarettes for the average smoker.

If you smoke, we invite you to try LifeSign risk-free. Or present it as a life-affirming gift to family or friends who smoke. LifeSign will break the smoking habit, or return it within 30 days for a full refund.

Clock for people who think in more than one time zone.

In today's global economy, business is not neatly confined to one city or time zone. Yet it's frustrating to calculate the time difference whenever you reach for the phone.

The Global Executive™ clock puts world time on your desk, and makes it handsome and functional. Pick three cities or time zones, set each clock once, and label it with one of the forty included decals printed with the major business capitals of the world. Now you can tell at a glance whether the Tokyo office is open, or if it's too early to reach the London stock exchange. When your business interest shifts to a new area, decals are easy to peel off and replace.

Modelled after high-performance automotive gauges, the cylindrical clocks are machined from aluminum on a computer-controlled lathe (tolerances are held to an incredible 1/1000 of an inch). Precise German movements keep accuracy to within one minute per month, and are protected by rubber seals and a mineral glass crystal. Base is milled from a solid, extruded bar of aircraft aluminum; four felt pads protect the surface of your desk.

Created by a Sharper Image designer and assembled in the US, the Global Executive measures 9L × 3H × 2½D," and weighs 2 lbs. A spare sheet of 40 city decals and clock batteries are included. One-year warranty.

In securing a major international deal, timing is everything. Now there's a desk clock that says you mean business.

Panasonic's most advanced cordless phone gives you twice the talk.

Panasonic's newest cordless phone has a range of up to 1,000 feet. So whether you're in the same room, or out by the pool, you always get your calls. Or use the built-in speaker-phone for hands-free conversations at the base. There's even an intercom to communicate between the base and the handset.

Ten channels ensure the clearest conversations.

Every time you pick up the handset to answer or make a call, Panasonic's sophisticated PLL MCA circuitry automatically scans for the clearest channel. And if interference occurs during your conversation, simply press PLL/Scan to bypass it. Now you can enjoy static-free conversations all the time.

The 16-number memory dialer (up to 16 digits each) provides instant access to the numbers you dial most often—from the base or the handset. Other modern conveniences include redial, flash, mute, hold, and pause buttons. And to protect the privacy of your line, simply select one of the 1,000 security codes.

Modeled after the antennas used on hand-held police radios, Panasonic's flexible design is more durable than telescoping metal antennas. Replaceable battery charges whenever the handset is on the base. Plugs into phone jack and AC outlet. UL-listed. Handset and base are made of ABS. Rubberized keys help you dial accurately. High/low/off ringer. Wall-mountable (includes hardware). Measures a space-saving 9L × 5W × 3D"; weighs 2 lbs. Quality Japanese construction and a one-year warranty.

Attaché that makes a distinguished impression.

This meticulously crafted attaché recreates the look of those popular (and very expensive) aluminum cases in the warmth of supple, top-grain leather. You get the same streamlined design, attractive styling, and ample interior for your important documents—for about half the price.

Craftsmen start with a lightweight but strong wood frame, and select hides of rich leather. A special tanning process imbues the leather with deep color that won't fade over the years. Accenting the exterior are upper and lower bands called "trapunto" for their distinctive padded stitching. Designed for easy carrying, the slim profile and rounded edges are comfortable against your side—even in crowded trains and buses.

The elegant exterior is matched by a spacious interior of soft pigskin suede. The full complement of pockets includes an accordion file, two pen slots, and a calculator pouch. Presto locks provide security—you choose your own three-digit combination. To prevent tarnishing, the brass locks are plated in lustrous 24K gold. Attaché opens on brass stays by Cagiva of Italy.

Measures 18L × 13W × 3 ¼D" (1¼ lbs). Also available in black (by mail order only). One-year warranty.

Original English pants press works while you sleep.

In the past, a proper English gentleman had a valet to prepare every change of clothing. Today, the Corby Classic Pants Press is as efficient as any butler—and far less costly. It puts a neat press in your pants in just 30 minutes—automatically.

The straightforward design is simple to use: raise the lever arms, insert your trousers, and smooth into position. Now close the press and turn the dial. Corby's unique stretcher bars grip, then gently ease the fabric back into its original shape. Baggy knees and wrinkles turn into crisp pant legs with razor-sharp creases.

After 30 minutes, the timer automatically cuts the current. So you can set Corby at night and wake to a perfectly pressed pair of trousers. You eliminate costly trips to the dry cleaner after every wearing.

Self-adjusting pressure pads accommodate cuffs, raised seams, heavy tweeds, or the lightest linens. Also perfect for ties. Thermostatically controlled temperature can't scorch or burn. The contoured hanger, tie rail, and accessory tray make Corby your complete bedroom valet.

Corby plugs into a standard wall outlet and costs about a penny a press. Measures 38½H × 17½W × 6D"; weighs 22 lbs. One-year warranty. Still individually hand-assembled and inspected in Windsor, England.

Living in the modern age needn't deprive you of the luxuries of the past. Order today.

Finally, a hand-held vacuum with serious cleaning power.

One of the main problems with most hand-held vacuums is that they don't have sufficient cleaning power for carpets. So even small jobs, such as cookie crumbs, mean you have to lug out the upright.

Panasonic designed the Jet-Flo hand-held vacuum with a 6-inch agitator brush that loosens crumbs, dirt and pet hair—making it easy for the powerful 2.2 amp motor to suck them up quickly and thoroughly. So you get real cleaning power in a small, easy-to-use design that's perfect for quick chores—especially in places where your upright simply won't fit, such as stairs and upholstered furniture.

Snap on the included dusting brush and Jet-Flo is ready to handle countertops, tile floors, and other hard surfaces. A low/high switch lets you adjust suction power for different jobs, and a bright headlight illuminates dark corners and closets. When you're through, the removable dust tray snaps off for easy emptying.

Jet-Flo's 25-ft. power cord is plenty long for most rooms and RVs. And unlike some other vacuums, the specially designed fan won't accumulate dust. Measures 10¾L × 6½W × 7¾H." UL-listed. Quality-built in Japan of shatter-resistant ABS. One-year warranty.

An ideal second vacuum for the home, Jet-Flo is also perfect for small apartments, cabins, and dorm rooms. Order today.

Why Oxy-Energizer is more than just a vitamin.

Oxy-Energizer™ is the first energy supplement to contain an active ingredient that's been granted a US patent. Once provided only to professional athletes, Essential Factors™ with Oxy-Energizer is now available through The Sharper Image.

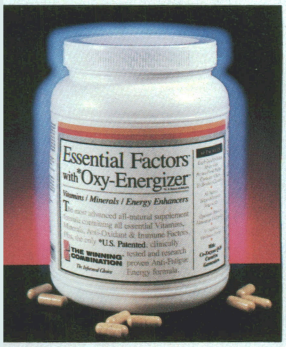
US patent #3,009,859.

Double-blind swimming, running, and aerobics studies consistently show improvements in stamina and endurance for subjects who regularly take this supplement. It can help you accomplish more at the office because you're not fighting tiredness. After work, you have more energy to enjoy sports or a late evening out.

Oxy-Energizer's blend of potassium, magnesium, and aspartic acid is combined with Essential Factors, the only nutritional supplement derived completely from hypoallergenic, contaminant-free, natural sources. Contains no milk, soy, yeast, sodium, starch, fats, oils, waxes, allergens, animal products, or preservatives.

Because most multi-vitamins are made by "glueing" together and heat-compressing bits of nutrient matter, much of their potency is lost in manufacture—or passes through your body unabsorbed.

Instead, this formula is ground into an extra-fine pH-balanced powder and inserted into capsules in a 100% heat-free process. The thin capsule dissolves in the stomach to release the nutrients at the exact time for maximum absorption. The capsules are also easier to swallow than tablets.



Sealed in space-age foil mylar, the nine capsules are impervious to light, moisture, and oxygen—forces which break down potency. The convenient packets slip easily into your briefcase, purse, or overnight bag.

Your daily energizer.

Call today to order the formula triathletes, aerobics instructors, and top executives choose for extra energy—and start living every hour to its fullest.

Where Kathy Smith gets extra energy.

Fitness authority Kathy Smith is more than the star of eight best-selling workout videos. She's also NBC TODAY Show's fitness correspondent, a health club owner, and a new mother. (Her latest video, Pregnancy Workout, shows how to exercise safely during pregnancy.) What's Kathy's energy secret? For over five years, a packet of Essential Factors with Oxy-Energizer with breakfast every morning has helped her maintain the pace.

Portable table tennis gets bigger and better.

Pro Action Table Tennis is the only scaled-down table endorsed by the United States Table Tennis Association—so you don't have to sacrifice playing quality for size. And because Pro Action measures just 36W × 72L × 29H," you can play anywhere—in the living room, den, or office. Setup takes only seconds and requires no tools. When the game is over, Pro Action folds on heavy duty steel hinges to a compact 36W × 36L × 3D" for easy storage. Or put Pro Action in your car and play at parties or at the cabin.

Portable, but big enough for fast action.

Quality US construction means you can play Pro Action with the same intensity you would use on a full-size table. For consistent bounce, the table is made of ⅜" thick, high-density fiberboard, not particle board as in cheaper tables. Sturdy, extruded aluminum wraps around the fiberboard and protects edges from damage. Steel braces lock 1-inch square aluminum legs into place and won't buckle when you stretch for drop shots. Hardboard cross bars and V-shaped aluminum braces eliminate sideways sway.

Comes complete with two regulation-size paddles and balls and a 5-inch high nylon net. For expert touch shots and spin, wood paddles have rubber faces. Steel brackets hold net in place. Weighs 50 lbs.

Three-time US Champion Sean O'Neal says the Pro Action table "captures all the excitement and skill of tournament table tennis." Order today and become the champion of your neighborhood.

Live music turns any party into a memorable occasion. To make one unforgettable, include the Denonet Singing System—and turn your guests into entertainers.

Accompanied by special multiplex cassettes (order below), anyone can sing like a recording star. Your voice is mixed with a pre-recorded musical track, then recorded on a second cassette. A built-in 20-watt amplifier and full-range 8" speaker deliver outstanding fidelity, or listen through your stereo or headphones.

Enhance performances with an electronic "echo" effect or use the pitch control to adjust the song's key to suit any vocal range. Denonet's exclusive Multi Sound Vocal Changer™ pairs you in a duet by muting the original vocal while you sing—and restoring it when you pause.

Now Denonet's most popular sing-along selections are available in special three-cassette sets—complete with lyric sheets. The first set includes Broadway show tunes, great standards, and classic movie duets. Second set includes rock 'n' roll of the '50s and '60s, current Top 40 hits, and all-time favorite party songs.

Console measures 24H × 15½W × 10D." Plugs into wall outlet. Includes a super-cardioid microphone, sample multiplex cassette, and 13,000-title cassette catalog. One-year warranty.

Portable slide viewer saves you space, time, and money.

Slides cost half as much as prints, and give you far better quality. With this exclusive Sharper Image Slide Viewer, you can share your slides with friends as conveniently as passing around a stack of prints. It sets up instantly to give you bright, sharp enlargements in three sizes on the big 8 × 8" screen.

To load, just drop in a stack of up to forty 35mm or 110 slides. At 5×, your slide is a vivid 5 × 8" image. The halogen lamp and three-condenser optics produce a brilliant image in any light. Turn the dial and you move to a screen-filling 8× magnification. Another turn for a closeup 24× enlargement. Now you can inspect your slides before ordering prints of your favorites.

Snap on the editing rack and you can sort 16 slides without stooping over. Roller grips hold unmounted transparencies and X rays. Measures 11H × 9W × 6D". Plugs into wall outlet. One-year warranty.

Executive micro-recorder. More powers in less size.

The smallest and lightest micro-recorder ever made, the Olympus Pearlcorder slips into your pocket to record every word at business conferences. You can record continually at either of two speeds through the microphone. Or set the voice activator to record only while people are speaking.

Olympus lets you preset the volume level that will activate recording. You can adjust it to screen out low-level noises like paper shuffling and chair movements. By eliminating such noises, you can "stretch" a 60-minute tape to record several hours of meetings.

Press the Cue Marking button at important points in your recording, and Olympus will stop automatically at those points when you rewind or fast forward. Olympus can play back tapes at 30% higher speed, so you can review a 60-minute tape in just 40 minutes.

Comes with a genuine leather case. Includes pause button, external microphone jack, record/battery LED indicator, tape counter, and earphone. 4⅛H × 2W × ½D", 4 oz. Runs on 2 AAA batteries or AC adapter (neither included). 90-day warranty.

Sony makes great stereo sound portable—and rechargeable.

Sony's digital-tuning, rechargeable 10th Anniversary Walkman® gives you the convenience of a remote control built into the headphone cord. You can adjust the volume, control the tape, or scan through 14 AM/FM presets—without removing the console from your pocket. At only 4L × 2⅞W × ⅞D", 7 oz., it's the smallest Walkman ever.

Auto-reverse cassette deck with both Dolby™ B and C noise reduction has premium Ex Amorphous tape heads for ultra-sensitive pickup. PLL digital synthesized stereo tuner hones in on the exact station frequency for most accurate reception.

For stirring bass that rivals live-concert sound, Sony's built-in Mega Bass™ selectively boosts low notes (select from high/medium/normal enhancement levels). Folding Micro Dynamic Receiver™ headphones (included) have ultra-light Mylar® diaphragms for extended frequency response.

Barely bigger than a cassette.

Super Walkman (without remote control) gives you dramatic Sony sound in a slightly larger size (4½L × 3W × 1 1/16D", 8 oz.). Sleek, Euro-style console has a PLL digital tuner, 14 AM/FM presets, Mega Bass, and auto-reverse cassette deck with Dolby™ B noise reduction. Lightweight MDR headphones are exceptionally comfortable.

Both Walkman models come with rechargeable batteries and a charger. They play for 3 hours on a 4-hour charge, and can also run 5½ hours on one AA battery (not included). Jack for AC or car adapter. Made in Japan. One-year parts, 90-day labor warranty.

Store all the facts of your life in Digital Diary. Now with time and alarm.

The latest Casio Digital Diary has a 12% larger screen that displays six lines of 18 characters—more than enough to show a full month's calendar, including days of the week.

The appointment log stores up to 200 years of daily and weekly schedules (to the year 2199), and automatically sorts all your commitments for the same day into the correct time order. Want to be reminded of an upcoming appointment? Set one of the unlimited number of schedule alarms. Or use the daily alarm as a wake-up when travelling.

This Casio can also display the local time or the time in any of 127 world cities. You can make any foreign time zone your home time.

Pocket-sized filing cabinet.

The phone directory and memo notepad both store up to 384 characters and digits for each listing. You can note names, titles, firm names, addresses, and all phone numbers in the separate business card directory. A Mark key blocks special entries from erasure. And a password protects confidential data. Letter/Memory key gives you access to ten more special memos or numbers. There's even a 12-digit calculator.

If you don't require the world time and alarm functions, the original Digital Diary is still available at the low price of only $89. Both models are made in Japan and fold to fit in your pocket or purse. Each measures only ⅝D × 5L × 2½W" (6 oz.). In-place batteries assure memory storage for two years and are easily replaced.

Trust Digital Diary to remember all the details. And free your mind to focus on the big picture.

World's smallest weather station measures the biggest storms.

Now you can tell how hard the wind is blowing, how much rain has fallen, and what the temperature is—without setting foot outside. Weather Pro brings instant weather information into your home and displays it on a tiny, LCD-equipped microcomputer. So you stay warm and dry even when monitoring the fiercest storms.

Simply mount the compact wind vane and anemometer (measures wind speed) on your TV antenna, and place the rain collector where it's unobstructed. For easy installation, run the included 40-foot connector cables into your home alongside your chimney.

Now press the appropriate button on the display's control panel, such as Wind for wind speed, or Rain for rainfall, to get instant weather updates in your neighborhood—not at some distant TV or radio station. The accurate and durable anemometer withstands hurricane-force winds up to 120 mph, yet is sensitive enough to detect a 3-mph breeze. Self-emptying rain collector measures rainfall in 0.1-inch increments and keeps track of both daily and accumulated amounts. And the thermometer measures from -50°F to 130°F, indicating daily highs and lows—even calculates windchill down to -150°F.

Press of a button converts measurements to metric. Monitor measures 2¾H × 2¾W × 1⅓D." Comes with rechargeable battery pack, AC adapter, and all mounting hardware. US-built with a one-year warranty.

Order Weather Pro today, and get all your weather updates instantly.

Six hours of pleasure for your ears.

Sony's DiscJockey® CD Changer plays up to six hours of uninterrupted digital music. You can program Sony to play up to 32 favorite songs from five discs in any order you want, and create your own distinctive concerts or party soundtracks. Or press "Shuffle Play," and DiscJockey plays songs at random from all five discs.

With the remote control, you can select the order you want discs to be played, skip or repeat a song, choose Shuffle Play, and even mute volume with a touch of the new Fader key.

Sony's four times digital oversampling moves noise and distortion beyond the range of human hearing. Dual digital-to-analog converters decode the sound from both stereo channels simultaneously.

A sophisticated three-beam laser system and servo-stabilizer circuitry automatically compensate for dust and disc flaws. Separate analog and digital power supplies reduce spurious distortion to a nearly unmeasurable level.

Play through your stereo or powered speakers. Measures 4⅜H × 17L × 15¼D." One-year warranty.

For the price of many single-disc players, Sony brings you hours of uninterrupted digital music. Order today and turn your stereo into your own personal orchestra.

If you've always wanted to play the piano . . .

Famed musician and teacher Patty Carlson teaches her students how to "feel the music"—not simply memorize the notes. The results are extraordinary: Within a few lessons students are comfortable playing—and even composing—on the piano.

Now her positive approach is available on "Play the Piano Overnight," a 45 minute VHS videotape for beginners and intermediate players. In 11 step-by-step lessons, you learn Carlson's innovative numbers system for identifying the keys and creating chords. Soon, the easy-to-play patterns elicit a variety of effects, from classical to rock to jazz. Mac Davis wrote "I was so excited after watching this video, I had my piano tuned—new strings and all."

Suitable for adults, Carlson's methods are also easy for children to grasp. Included practice cards help solidify learning. Once you've mastered the initial lessons, expand your musical horizons with Carlson's "Play the Blues Overnight." This 45-minute follow-up tape teaches you how to play sharps and flats expertly.

Even if your experience on the piano or keyboard ends at "Chopsticks," Patty Carlson's proven techniques will have you composing your own melodies overnight. Order today.

Seiko invents the two-hand alarm chronograph.

Once chronographs were bulky timepieces with at least three dials and six hands. Now, Seiko creates a handsome and comfortable two-hand alarm chronograph just 7mm thin.

A micro-electronics breakthrough.

A new microchip controls each hand independently. Turn the setting stem to the Alarm Set mode, for example, and the computer-driven hands move automatically to the current alarm setting. Then simply press the fast and slow time advance buttons to change to a new setting. Twelve-hour alarm chimes for 20 seconds.

Change to the Timer mode, and now your chronograph counts down from up to 60 minutes. In the Stopwatch mode, Seiko measures up to 60 minutes in 1/5 second intervals. You can also measure accumulated lap times, split (intermediate) times, and times for two competitors. Zero Match mode resets both hands to 12 o'clock.

Ruggedly built with a scratch-resistant Hardlex crystal, gold-plated brass case, stainless steel back, and padded calfskin strap. Accuracy of the reliable Seiko quartz movement is ±15 seconds per month. In-place battery lasts approximately 2½ years. Quality Japanese construction. Comes with gift box, instructions, and three-year warranty.

Revive dead batteries—without opening the hood.

1:30 a.m. You've reached your car in the satellite parking lot at the airport. You turn the key and Vvrrrrr: dead battery.

Ingenious Jump-Start is a self-contained power system that recharges the battery through your car's cigarette lighter. Plug it in, and a yellow light tells you the battery is recharging. Wait about ten minutes, and a green light glows. Now, turn the key and you're on your way.

Jump-Start's 6.5 ampere/hour capacity is 100% safe for your battery and electrical system. For an extra margin of safety, Jump-Start sensors immediately cut power if a short is detected or your battery is defective.

Doubles as a DC power station.

Five times more powerful than other battery rechargers, Jump-Start also gives you an average of 3-6 hours of 12v DC power for portable TVs, radios, de-icers—any car appliance.

The reusable Jump-Start recharges in 30 minutes. Simply plug it into your car's cigarette lighter or a wall outlet (with included AC adapter). A green light tells you when it's fully charged. Also comes with an adapter for cars without cigarette lighters (attaches directly to battery).

Jump-Start slips into your trunk and takes up only 6¾ × 6¼ × 3" of space (less than most jumper cables). Weighs 5¾ lbs.—easy to carry to your boat or RV.

One-year warranty.

Call today for the security of Jump-Start. You'll agree with TODAY Show consumer electronics editor Peter McWilliams: "If you need it only once, it's worth the cost."

Yafa brings daylight into your office—for only $99.

The halogen bulb in this Yafa lamp closely duplicates soft sunlight—the most soothing and natural illumination to work under. Halogen gives off 50 watts of white light, yet consumes one-third the energy of ordinary bulbs, shrinking electrical bills. This newest model has a high/low/off rocker switch to give you more lighting options.

On your desk, a system of gears and counterweights holds the long, 24" lighting arm perfectly balanced in any position. A slight touch directs light onto papers, or raises light up to brighten the room. To minimize annoying glare on computer screens and papers, the vented head pivots 180°, independently of the arm.

Durable powder coating is bonded to the steel lamp. A 12v transformer is concealed in the felt-bottom base. Bulb saves you money by lasting up to 2,000 hours—two-and-a-half times longer than incandescent bulbs. Measures up to 29" long; 4½" diameter base. Weighs 5 lbs., with 5' AC cord. One-year warranty.

Take command of Astro Shooter II.

Now you can enjoy the challenge of real arcade pinball at home. Our popular Astro Shooter™ game is back—dressed up in exciting colors, with a space-theme scoreboard.

This is true, lightning-fast pinball. You control push buttons on the sides that activate three flippers—one on the left and unique double flippers on the right. As the rolling ball descends through the playfield, it caroms off the power bumpers. Each bounce scores you points. More points roll up as the ball passes over one of five scoring buttons.

Slam! You flip the ball up and it crashes into a kick-out crater, setting off an explosion of sounds and spinning the scoring drums. Whoosh. The ball shoots out of the crater, and your perfectly timed flip blasts it up the hyperspace channel. Now, the whole galaxy erupts: Lights revolve. Bumpers dance up and down. Numbers whirl. And a space march sounds.

Improve your scores. As you hone your reflexes.

Like full-sized pinball, Astro Shooter II tests your concentration and skill. Stage matches with your friends. Or compete to set a new all-time high score, which you can record on the top scoreboard. Automatically counts down from 1-5 balls, and shuts down when the game is over. Has on/off switch with flashing LED and sliding control for volume. Plugs into wall outlet. Measures 20L × 12W × 11½H". Bring the Boss home.

Casio's original business organizer is now just $199.

With a full 64K of memory, Casio's powerful B.O.S.S. (Business Organizer Scheduling System) can store thousands of phone numbers. In seconds, you can put your finger on every name, phone number, memo, and fact you need. Yet at just 6⅜L × 3¼W × ⅞D" folded (only 8½ oz.), The Boss still slips into your suit pocket.

Facts at your fingertips.

For easier scheduling of your appointments, the 32 character by 6 line screen can display two monthly calendars side by side. The expanded memory lets you enter as many as 384 characters for each memo, phone listing, or scheduling entry. And the full-stroke, typewriter-style keys make entering or editing data faster and more accurate. Casio also gives you four quick and easy ways to search for and retrieve your information.

Casio's Boss displays two monthly calendars side by side to help schedule conferences and vacations.

An electronic Business Card Library stores the name, title, employer, address, and phone and fax numbers of all your important contacts—automatically alphabetized. Plus, you can make six more notations (such as birthday, hobbies, etc.) and scan through your files three different ways: by name, employer, or full listing. Use the separate Phone Directory for more business or personal numbers—with room for up to nine fact entries (such as spouse's name) per listing.

Never miss another appointment.

Casio's improved Schedule Keeper lists the times and details of all your appointments—automatically sorted into correct time order. The screen can display your daily calendar on a bar graph that shows at a glance all your scheduled and free blocks of time. If you like, use the many daily and schedule alarms to remind you of engagements, errands, medicines to take, etc.

The built-in 200-year calendar (from 1901 to 2099) shows the days of the week and dates for two months—and highlights all days with events noted. Digital clock gives you the time for over 120 cities around the world. When you travel, you can make any time zone your home time.

Use the Memo function to store lists, personal data, flight schedules, and all the notes to yourself that get lost on slips of paper. A Secret key protects confidential information with your own password. A separate Letter memory gives you instant access to ten special memos or phone numbers.

There's even a 12-digit calculator with square root, mark-up percent, independent memory, and date calculations.

Perfect partners: The Boss and your computer.

Order an optional interface, and now you can exchange data between The Boss and an Apple Macintosh,® or IBM PC/AT, PS/2, and other compatibles. You can also print out files (such as your next day's schedule) on your computer printer. Included utility software is also compatible with Lotus 1-2-3 information. Made in Japan of rugged ABS, The Boss comes with complete instructions and a communication cable to share data with another Digital Diary (B.O.S.S. models only). Includes 2 batteries and memory back-up. One-year warranty.

Now more than ever, The Boss is your friendly, helpful, and ever-conscientious electronic partner. Act promptly to take advantage of this low price while supplies last.

Flash. Pick up a neon phone for only $119.

For the drama of a genuine neon phone you once had to pay over $250. Now Cicena, creator of some of the first neon phones, offers their latest transparent model for only $119.

Exclusively for customers of The Sharper Image, Cicena also uses a striking new color. A tube of glowing indigo blue neon surrounds the visible electronics—turning the utilitarian telephone into modern electronic sculpture. You can set the neon on "bright," dim it to a deep blue glow, or switch it off. Like the secret phones of comic book crusaders, the neon flashes to announce incoming calls—with or without the audible ringer.

Modern conveniences include switchable tone/pulse dialing, last number redial, illuminated rubber keys, and a convenient 10-number memory dialer.

Measures a trim 11L × 4W × 3H." No batteries required; plugs into wall outlet and phone jack. Made of tough, crystal clear Lexan™ plastic. Can be wall mounted. Hearing aid compatible. One-year warranty.

Make one last call on your ordinary phone: Dial today for deep blue neon at an irresistible price.
